DAVIS LEADER IN POLITICS AND SPORTS

(REUTERS DISPATCH)

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 13.—Dwight Filley Davis, the new Secretary of War, is 44 years of age, having been born in St. Louis on July 8, 1879. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Filley Davis. Davis took his A.B. degree at Harvard University in 1900 and later studied law at Washington University, where he took the LL.B. degree in 1902. Two years later, on November 15, 1905, he married Miss Helen Brooks of Boston.

Soon after finishing school Davis began the practice of law and became one of the civic leaders of St. Louis, taking part in varied activities. He has held many political posts here, beginning back in 1907-9, when he was a member of the St. Louis House of Delegates. In 1911-14 he served as Park Commissioner of this city, in which capacity he promoted the organization of playgrounds.

CITED FOR BRAVERY

In 1917 Davis tendered his services in the World War and was made a captain in the Fifth Missouri Infantry. A few months later he had become a major in the same organization. Going across seas, his unit served with

"TWINKLING ANKLES" REVIVED

(BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS)

LONDON, Oct. 13.—"The twinkling ankles" of years ago are likely to be seen this season. Fashion experts say there will be no plain silk stockings for the society belle who wishes to be up-to-date. They will be adorned with silk embroidery and ribbon flowers, in the center of which will twinkle a small rock diamond. Other stockings will have embroidered silk comets, tipped with brilliant in a variety of designs.

the Thirty-fifth Division and he was promoted to lieutenant-colonel after the Argonne battle. He was in the thick of two great conflicts in the final period of the war—the St. Mihiel and the Argonne offensives—and was twice cited in divisional orders for gallantry in action.

Shortly after his return to St. Louis, following the signing of the armistice, he entered the political field. In the spring of 1920 he announced his candidacy for United States Senator on the Republican ticket in opposition to the late Senator Stephen P. Spencer. Although Davis had gained support in St. Louis, he was defeated in the State by Spencer. The St. Louis vote stood 51,574 for Davis and 17,419 for Spencer.

In making his Senatorial race Davis announced a platform which coincided very strongly with the present policies of President Coolidge. For instance, Davis asserted at that time that the government should assist in bringing this country back to normal by setting an example of thrift. "It should put the administrative departments," he said, "upon an efficient basis as soon as possible, and the first step to that end should be the adoption of a budget system. Our present system of taxation should also be carefully revised."

HELPS FARMERS

Davis was appointed a director of the War Finance Corporation by President Harding on March 22, 1921. The War Finance body had been created by Congress to help finance the export of American goods to foreign countries through the lending of $500,000,000 to the United States through banks in the agricultural districts by lending funds to grow and harvest crops.

It was rumored in 1923 that Davis would be a candidate for Senator again and St. Louis organizations began to line up behind him. This movement, however, was silenced by his reappointment as a member of the War Finance Corporation.

Early in 1923 it was announced that J. M. Wainwright, Assistant Secretary of War, who had been elected to Congress from a New York district, would resign. Davis immediately was suggested for the vacant post, and his appointment was sent to the Senate by President Harding on February 23, 1923. The appointment was confirmed and Davis took his oath on the following March 4. Two days before he took office he was awarded a Distinguished Service Cross for gallantry in action in France.

DEFENSE IDEALS

As Assistant Secretary of War Davis has been in full charge of the War Office for some time in the absence of Secretary Weeks, who left Washington on May 23 of this year to take an extended rest on the advice of his physician. In his campaign for Senator and in many public speeches later Davis has made known his ideas on national defense. In his platform in 1920 he said: "I believe that a large professional army is unnecessary and unwise. National safety with freedom from militarism is best assured by a system based on American principles of equality of opportunity and obligation."

"A small professional army, supplemented by trained citizenry; a navy adequate for defense and protection of our merchant marine; and a reasonable measure of preparedness at all times is in accord with these principles."

Davis was sternly opposed to the League of Nations plan as advocated by President Wilson, asserting: "We should never bind ourselves to send our boys to fight overseas at the command of any group of nations, regardless of whether or not the cause appealed to the conscience of the American people as righteous and just."

NOTED AS SPORTSMAN

In January, 1924, speaking before the Chamber of Commerce here, he explained the national defense plan, whereby industry will be ready for mobilization in twenty-four hours in case of war. In concluding his speech he said: "We are ever again forced into war there must be no slackers and no profiteers, and those will be eliminated under the defense plan. It is not preparation for war, it is our best assurance against war. So I confidently ask you, as patriotic Americans, to support the democratic plan for the national defense, based as it is on that mutual responsibility which is the essence of our democratic institutions."

An innovation—an army school of business—was suggested by Davis shortly after he became Assistant Secretary of War, and the plan was approved and carried out through Secretary Weeks.

Davis has been noted for his athletic achievements. While a student at Harvard he attracted national attention by winning tennis contests. In 1922 he was chosen president of the United States that the ideas expressed by the chief of the air service are fundamentally unsound in his conception of a new national defense doctrine, whereby the theater of operations and the theater of defense is to be divided into three theaters of action: sea, air and land, each with a separate commander, responsible for the defense in his respective theater."

SEPARATE AIR UNIT HIT

The General Staff also was said to view as "unsound" the proposal for a separate corps within the Army, urged by Gen. Patrick as a step looking to creation of the defense department.

Asserting that "air units are essential to an Army and must be an integral part thereof," Gen. Drum added that "we must not be blinded to the sacrifices of the American doughboy."

"The principle of the air service is to replace the dugged determination, the 'will to win' of the American doughboy, the mechanical device can never replace the mental, moral and physical qualities of man."

"The air service is no worse off," he added, "than the infantry, cavalry and other branches of the Army in matters relating to promotion, housing, ration allowances and lack of funds with which to purchase material."

"The War Department has not realized the full importance of the air arm and regards it as a mere auxiliary to the military peace organization in any country of military importance, except possibly Great Britain, whose geographical and political position warrants special air strength."

"The impression is given that our service units are not to be regarded as flying officers. All flying officers are on staff."

THREE CONCLUSIONS

"The chief of air service commands are not responsible for more than 70 per cent of the air service forces in the United States."

Gen. Drum specifically denied a charge by Maj. Walter G. Kliner, executive officer of the air service, that it took a year and six days to arrange for the world flight, asserting "the flight was approved in principle within less than three weeks."

Much of Gen. Drum's testimony was in support of these three conclusions of the General Staff.

"That there is no separate tactical or strategic mission for air power."

"That the present organization is sound and that the air corps as presently organized is sound, tactically and administratively."

EXPERTS HIT CHANGES IN GAS VALVES

Shenandoah Alterations Declared Unsafe at Naval Court of Inquiry

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—Changes made in the gas-cell installation on the ship Shenandoah were declared unsafe today by two construction officers appearing before the naval court of inquiry. Both added, however, that with a crew as skilled as that of this ship, the alterations were not necessarily dangerous.

Commander Ralph D. Weyerbacher, who constructed the Shenandoah, said he had known Lieut. Roland G. Mayer and Charles E. Rauch, officers in charge of the gas cells, had great confidence in their skill and ability, and would have felt safe aboard the Shenandoah with them on the job to look after the new valve arrangements.

Commander Garland Fulton, who approved the change with a warning that it was not a "fool-proof" as the original installation, declared the Shenandoah's crew was one of the most experienced that could be found and that it was because of this that the alteration was authorized. He said he had no objection to the alterations, but that he would have preferred to have more of it in the automatic instead of the maneuvering or hand-valves.

ARCTIC BRAVED BY EXPEDITION

only. We encountered the old Shekleton polar ship Quest in the pack, and she promised to aid us in repairing our propellers as soon as we arrived at a calm harbor in Franz Josef Land.

But the "Quest" was not to be. The "Quest" had been compelled to proceed and our repairs would be made at Cape Murry, where no sailing vessel ever had penetrated.

Here our course northward was blocked by solid polar ice. We returned to Northbrook Island, where we anchored and surveyed an uncharted bay under Cape Barant, holding the British flag and commencing repairs. We were one of the principal supporters of our expedition.

Our food supply running low, we passed at Cape Barant a bear hunt. First, an enormous bear which came prowling around our camp was shot. Then we pursued a pack of thirty and killed seven, providing ample food for men and dogs. We made friends with the surviving members of the bear colony, taking many photographs of them on the pack-ice and swimming in the sea, or eating blubber thrown from the ship's rail. In an effort to obtain a live mascot for the ship, we lassoed a sturdy little cub, which escaped by biting through the one-inch rope.

RUDDER SMASHED

The pounding of the pack-ice now smashed our rudder. We wedged the ship into an ice dock and our service yet a little while longer, until we could work our way back from Franz Josef Land.

At this point the polar fog and mist closed in around us and day or two later we and our marvelous escape from disaster on a stranded iceberg as big as a mountain.

In a final attempt to penetrate the polar ice-pack, we proved the existence of the phantom Gillis Island, which, according to years ago at latitude 81.30. The ice north of this point was as solid as granite, and we were forced to retreat without completing our survey of the phantom island, but on three occasions we sighted the land in a refraction of a miraged shadow shape.

As we turned homeward we had many anxious moments. The sea was dangerously advanced and we were seriously hampered by our damaged rudder as we fought to clear the pack-ice closing in around us. We had annoying head winds all the time. But our heroic journey was a new record in Arctic exploring for we completely circumnavigated Northern Land under sail alone. Our last feat never having been accomplished before in this direction.

A new island, discovered and surveyed south of Cutler's Reef, was named Wadank Island after a generous supporter of our enterprise.

We rounded North Cape on September 21, having attained latitude 81.20 on September 19. On the way to Green Harbor, terrible gales carried away our mainmast. While we were repairing this damage fire broke out in our hold.

Then, soon after we had conquered the flames, our ship struck among some uncharted reefs in the darkness and was worked off two days later.

One important result of our expedition was the finding of an excellent base for a polar flight which we plan to launch next year. We are now repairing the ship, all well and happy. The expedition will leave for England next week after temporary repairs have been effected.

LOCARNO MEET OUTLOOK ROSY

Security Parley Optimistic Over Prospects

Possibility Seen of Ending Conference Friday

Polish Guarantee Question Still Unsettled

(BY CARL AND ASSOCIATED PRESS) LOCARNO (Switzerland), Oct. 13.—The rosiest official communique since the sessions started came tonight from Europe's security conference and there is so much optimism in the air that there is even talk of concluding the conference Friday, which is Austria Chamberlain's sixty-second birthday.

Nevertheless a serious question remains unsettled: that is the treatment of Poland in the matter of the French guarantee of the proposed German-Polish arbitration treaty.

France is being put in the embarrassing position of either demanding complete direct guarantees for Poland, or more indirect guarantees through the League of Nations Covenant, and must decide whether she will risk the general security for which she has been striving for long decades in over-insistence on loyalty to Poland.

Czechoslovakia, which has the same kind of alliance with France as has Poland, though she has fewer potential political difficulties before her, is in a similar position. The official communique explains that the delegates heard a full report of the work of revision entrusted to them "with a view to a final draft of the security pact," and continues: "The conference decided to adopt the greater part of the text, which was examined, only a few points being reserved for further discussion."

Dr. Kemper, secretary of the German Chancellery, is due in Berlin this evening. Locarno will be present. President Von Hindenburg and his Cabinet, especially the Nationalist members, in touch with the agreements reached in principle by the conference. He will explain the arrangement whereby Germany is to join the League of Nations.

TILE UNION HELPS IN WALKOUT

Strike Results in Settlers Laying Down Tools, With Total of 500 Men Idle

Refusal of two of the largest tile-contracting associations in Los Angeles to accede to a minimum 15 per day wage scale asked by the tile setters' helpers' union along with several other items in dispute, resulted in a walkout of union helpers yesterday.

Inasmuch as international regulations governing members of the Tile Setters' Union prohibit tile setters working with nonunion helpers, the walkout of the helpers meant that tile setters likewise quit work, the total number of men affected being more than 500. In the meantime, members of the tile setters' local, whose agreement with the contractors expired last April, are seeking a new agreement in which $12 a day is asked. The scale under the old agreement was $10 per day.

The contractors' organizations involved are the Southwest Tile Contractors' Association and the Tile Contractors' Credit Association.

A. N. Morris, secretary and manager of the last-named organization, stated that the Tile Contractors' Credit Association felt that the tile setters' helpers were performing unskilled labor and were not entitled to recognition as a body. The helpers maintain their labor is technical and is entitled to consideration as such.

"The tile setters," said James H. Hutson, business agent for Tile Setters' Local, No. 13, "are really not on strike, although they are not working. Union tile setters cannot work with nonunion helpers, so that's where the situation stands."

"As far as the tile setters are concerned, no wage scale agreement has been signed with the Tile Contractors' Credit Association since the old one expired last April. We are asking a new agreement, calling for $12 a day, and expect to stand pat for that amount. A number of independent contractors already have signed with us."

BUSINESS MEN HEAR OF SURVEY

Downtown Association Hears Addresses and Gets Result of Annual Election

A talk on a traffic survey of twenty eastern cities made by Capt. J. L. Butler, former Chief of Police, and discussions of the tax situation, real estate, banks and of the business outlook and the announcement of the election results were the highlights of the first annual meeting and banquet of the Downtown Business Men's Association last night at the El Comodoro.

The speaker, who is the managing director of the association, included H. W. Frank, president; E. J. Fleming, president of the City Market of Los Angeles; Frank H. Metcalf, realtor; Orin E. Monette, president of the Bank of America; Harrison C. Hall, president of the statistical organization; and Charles W. McMoran, writer and former government insurance representative.

Mr. Butler spent seven weeks in the East on his survey and said that in many eastern cities the downtown business men are erecting costly garages and maintaining parking spaces for their patrons to escape the parking problems.

He will complete a detailed report on his survey within three weeks.

In opening his talk, Mr. Fleming paid tribute to the late Gen. Harrison Gray Otis, founder of The Times, for the part he took in the development of Los Angeles, asserting that if it hadn't been for Gen. Otis, "Los Angeles would not be what it is today."

Mr. Fleming talked on "The Taxation Situation and How It Affects Business," and said the greatest menace that confronts the American people today is overtaxation. Mr. Fleming condemned the present tax situation and recommended the reduction of the inheritance tax to attract easterners to California.

A report of the election results was given by William F. Peters, secretary. Following were elected directors and will, within the next ten days, select the officers of the association: Horace Boos, O. B. Burdick, C. C. Colyear, Walter C. Day, Herman W. Frank, E. J. ### TWO GIRLS THWARTED IN SUICIDE

Lovers' Quarrel and Ill Health Assigned as Causes in Death Attempts

Two young women attempted suicide yesterday afternoon, one as the result of a lover's quarrel, the other in a moment of irresponsibility.

Miss Mary Gilber, 21 years of age, who lives at the Eleanor Hotel, 160 North Main street, went to the Hollywood Police Station and asked Detective Lieutenants Neece and Page to call her sweetheart, with whom she had had an argument, and ask him to come to the station.

The officers said they could not intervene in a lover's quarrel. She returned to leave when they heard the young woman snap. Page took a half-filled bottle, which he said contained chloroform, from her hand. Miss Gilber was taken to the Receiving Hospital, and later removed to the General Hospital, where she recovered.

Miss Lillian Salzer, 22, of 1335 Taft avenue, slashed her wrist with a knife in a suicide attempt in the Los Angeles Building. She was treated at the office of Dr. J. R. Houseworth and was able to go to her home.

She told Detective Lieutenant Kling of the Hollywood station that she was sitting in the book office, and everything went blank, and she knew nothing more until she found herself being treated for her injury. She said she had been ill, and had been depressed, but had not known anything attempted to do herself injury.

Miss Salzer is an instructor of dramatics.

PASADENA DEADLOCK CONTINUES

Directors Fail to Elect Seventh Man and Refuse to Read Protest

(BY A. P. MORTIMER) PASADENA, Oct. 13.—Dissension which has prevailed in the Board of City Directors for several months was in evidence again today when the governing body of the city met and, after several verbal skirmishes, following the nomination of Clark McLam, former postmaster, failed to select a successor to John H. Simpson, Director, who resigned more than two months ago.

Directors disagreed also as to the propriety of reading a communication sent to the board by the Independent Voters' League, demanding that the Directors present their resignations if they failed to elect a new director, and elect the seventh member of the board today. The communication was not read at the meeting, on motion of Director Carl Newcomer, one of the league's chief targets.

"We don't care to consider any suggestions about how to run our city," coming from the president of this league (Law Head) who lives outside the city," Newcomer declared.

Head lives in Altadena, but is employed in Pasadena.

Director Hiram Wadsworth pleaded for reading the letter, but he was overruled.

SHOUP TELLS OF STRAHORN DEAL

Espee Executive Says Road Will Serve Oregon

Relates Details of Purchase of Other Interests

Governor Backs Railways' Extension Plans

(BY A. P. MORTIMER) PORTLAND, Oct. 13.—Paul Shoup, executive vice-president of the Southern Pacific Company, testifying here today at the I.C.C. hearing on applications for railroad development in Central Oregon and Northern California, told of the deal whereby the Southern Pacific obtained control of the Oregon, California and Eastern (the Strahorn line) and the Nevada-California-Oregon line.

He said that everything will be done by the Southern Pacific to make its control of the Strahorn line satisfactory to Klamath Falls. He said his company will begin standardizing the Nevada-California-Oregon line as soon as the I.C.C. gives approval and ratifies the acquisition of the line by the Southern Pacific.

The Southern Pacific first extended credit to R. E. Strahorn, Shoup said, but eventually bought 300 of the 400 shares and took an option on the rest. It paid $55 a share for what it bought, a total of $16,500, and agreed to pay for the rest within three years if it bought.

BONDS TAKEN UP

In addition it took up $500,000 of bonds for $465,000 and advanced $250,000 to meet existing debts.

He said the Southern Pacific valued the line at the time of the purchase at $1,545,000. While Strahorn set a figure at $1,520,000 on it.

Control of the common stock in the Nevada-California-Oregon line was finally obtained for $1, he said, but the Southern Pacific agreed to take over $275,000 of 8 per cent bonds and $150,000 of preferred stock.

Charles Moran and his three sisters owned the line. Moran is to take in exchange securities of certain California electric companies that are subsidiaries of the Southern Pacific.

The Moran interests will receive at least $1,375,000 and possibly as much as $1,550,000 through the deal, Shoup said. Moran is to remain president of the line with the privilege of naming three of the seven directors.

GOVERNOR ON STAND

Gov. Pierce took the stand today as the first witness for the Oregon Public Service Commission, an intervenor and recommended that both the Southern Pacific and the Oregon Trunk be allowed to make the extension for which they have applied.

Gov. Pierce recited that the Oregon commission had sought to obtain a cross-State line from Bend, Ore., to a line south from Bend, to open up a large region of the State now without rail transportation. He emphasized the need of development in the territory around Lakeview. He favored standardization of the narrow-gauge lines entering Lakeview from the south, and declared that Lakeview should have an outlet to the north, giving connection with markets served by the Northern lines and the Union Pacific.

Actress Takes Diet to Regain Loss in Weight

While thousands of women are fighting the bugaboo of too much weight, Mrs. William Desmond, whose stage name is Mary Melvor, is baying the sad fate, which has taken her to a Long Beach sanatorium and a milk diet intended to increase her present poundage of eighty-nine.

Mrs. Desmond, who weighs around 100 pounds when in the best of health, lost the eleven pounds during a past bout with obesity, she suffered while playing in a local vaudeville theater in a sketch with her husband. Ordinary methods failed to put back the lost weight, so Mrs. Desmond took up her residence in the milk sanatorium a few days ago.

She and her husband are soon to leave on an extended vaudeville tour, she said, and she must be back at her former weight before starting.

WAY TO SPEND RICHES SHOWN

Whole World Sends Ideas to Philanthropist

Plea for Plan to Use Money Brings Answer Flood

Personal Appeals Swamp Aged Millionaire

(BY A. J. WOOD, WIRE)
NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—Associates of Leopold Scheppe pleaded today for a cessation of contributed ideas on how the 84-year-old philanthropist can distribute his millions.

Last July Mr. Scheppe appealed for "concrete and workable ideas" on how he might best distribute his surplus wealth. Whether the ideas he received were either concrete or workable is open to discussion but in the bulk, at any rate, they were a hundred times greater than was expected by the aged philanthropist who had no idea what forces he was unleashing.

100,000 ANSWERS
Since the appeal for ideas was made, it was announced today, 100,000 communications originating in virtually every part of the world, have been received. So great was the answering flood that Mr. Scheppe soon gave up his first intention of handling all the contributions personally and fled before the inundation to the seclusion of his country home.

Response to Scheppe's appeal instantaneous and still continues. A large clerical force has been engaged in sorting, cataloging and answering the mail which at its peak comprised 4000 letters a day. Every desire known to the human heart was encompassed in the appeals. An ambitious goat-herder of Judea wished to study law. Funds to meet overdue mortgages on homes were asked by scores; dozens of parents sought the financial wherewithal to give their children university courses.

One letter, from a nonagenarian in Ohio, stated she had just one more year of life and would like to enjoy it free from worry. This happened to reach the personal attention of Mr. Scheppe and he ordered that a sum adequate for her needs be sent at once.

MANY ODD LETTERS
Most of the foreign replies were in the language of the country of origin, but some were in labored English. Among the letters was the near verse appeal of Joseph Svoboda of Prague:

"The girl,
"We love,
"We labor,
"We are but poor;
"$10,000,
"Marriage,
"Happiness."
Bert, Geleek, tired of Czechoslovakian army life, offered to disclose his discovery of the cause of "good tide and ebb of the ocean" for suitable financial compensation.

GERMANS ANSWER
Several hundred letters came from Germany, mostly from persons who lost their fortunes during the World War. As an experiment, the attempt to obtain public advice was a failure. Very few of the appeals went beyond the needs and desires of the individual writers in spite of Mr. Scheppe's announcement that all sought method of forebearing quick and permanent assistance to the public generally. Those who sent the count report that less than 5 per cent are other than out-and-out personal appeals.

HIGH SCHOOL YOUTHS DAMON AND PYTHIAS

ONE HELPS THE OTHER WHEN COLLAR BONE FRACTURE INCAPACITATES

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
HELENA (Mont.) Oct. 13.—They are Damon and Pythias. Side by side, on the diamond, under the basket ball goals across the gridiron, they are inseparable.

Some weeks ago, Damon, who is Theodore Thayer in private life, broke his collarbone at football while scrimmaging with the Helena High School team. Pythias, who is Leslie Jacklin—both are sophomores—helped Damon get his lessons, since Damon could not use his arm to write, fed him, turned up at dawn to help him dress and in short, was such an angel as only Pythias can be.

Damon gradually recovered and a few days ago went out to the football field again to watch Pythias practice. Pythias broke his collarbone, in the same place, in the same place. And now Damon must feed Pythias and get his geometry for him.

A CLEAR COMPLEXION

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes—Most Women Can Have.

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color. These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, sallow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results. Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep them fit, lean and young.—[Advertisement]

THIRTY CHURCH THEFTS SOLVED

Reign of Vandalism Given Check in Pasadena

Gang of Four Youths Held in Desecrations

Detailed Confessions Made to Police Officers

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent
PASADENA, Oct. 13.—A reign of robbery and vandalism that violated the sanctity of thirty-two Pasadena churches and temples ended today, when four 14-year-old boys were arrested by local police. According to Detective Lieutenants Decker and Kaighin, the boys have confessed in detail to the long chain of mystifying church robberies that have baffled the police and worried Pasadena pastors for more than a month.

Two of the youths have police records. It is said, and one is asserted to have escaped only recently from a reform school. They worked always as a gang, detectives learned; shattered church windows, stole stamps, collection money, prayer books and many other articles, damaged the interiors of many beautiful edifices, tore down decorations and marred furnishings.

The names and addresses of the four boys were given as Willis Alshire, 110 Summit avenue; James S. Martin, 47 West Montana street, and John D. Elkins, 115 West Mariposa street, all of Pasadena, and Edward Purdy of 818 South Palmer street, Whittier.

Hardly a church of prominence in Pasadena was overlooked by the vandals. The list of churches robbed includes the First Nazarene, St. Elizabeth's, Westminster Presbyterian, St. Mark's, Nazarene Tabernacle, Fremont Baptist, Lincoln Avenue Presbyterian, Lincoln Avenue Methodist, Throop Memorial, First Friends, Alhambra Methodist, Central Christian, St. Andrew's, Pilgrim Congregational, Lutheran, First Methodist, Christian Alliance, Advent Christian, Swedish Methodist, Church of the Brethren, Second Nazarene and Temple D'nal Israel.

Masonry Takes Rest in Italy as Result of Riots

(BY CABLE-EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
ROME, Oct. 13.—Masonry has now been virtually suppressed in Italy following a decree issued by the Grand Master of the Grand Orient announcing a "vacation" for all members. This announcement followed immediately after the riots on Sunday, when lodge headquarters were invaded by Fascist flags were torn down and furniture was burned.

Officially the Fascist authorities deplore this violence and have caused the arrest of nine riot leaders, but the fact remains that Masonry virtually has been stamped out of existence. Premier Mussolini, taking full cognizance of the Masonic situation, has issued a decree announcing predicting some "revolutionary act" in the near future. It is important to bear in mind that Masonry is still entirely legal in Italy, as the anti-Masonic bill has not passed the Senate.

FILE ANSWER IN NEVADA COURT

Defendants in Placer Case Deny Assertion

State Complaint Bill Fails to Present Valid Cause

Confirmation of Title to Ten Claims Petitioned

(SPECIAL INVESTIGATION)
CARSON CITY (Nev.) Oct. 13.—In the Federal Court for the District of Nevada has been filed answer to a suit of the United States of America against Ralph H. Cameron, Jr., Ida M. Cameron, E. W. Campbell, G. E. Stetson, H. R. Stetson, his wife, S. E. Quislor, T. T. Pettar, H. N. Williams, E. E. Hopkins, M. Gillett, H. R. Gillett, J. F. Ross, H. R. Bedient, Walter M. Fowler, Frank Beemer, John L. McMichael, W. B. McConall, Budd G. Niles, S. W. Niles, H. R. Levick, Jr., J. M. Watson, Jr., Walter Johnston and George W. Wells. Attorneys of record for the defendants are F. R. and Leo A. McNamee of Los Angeles, H. L. Partridge of Arizona and R. P. Lester of Pasadena.

The answer declares that the bill of complaint is not sufficient to constitute a valid cause of action in equity and that if the plaintiff like any cause of action it has a plain, speedy and complete remedy at law.

ALLEGATIONS DENIED
In the complaint were allegations that the defendants had located about sixty asserted placer claims along the Colorado River, with inclusion of the upper Black Canyon and Boulder Canyon dam-sites and reservoir sites, and that the locations had not been made in good faith for the development of mineral, while attack was made on the filings as made when the lands covered were not subject to entry.

In the answer to denial of these allegations, with statement that the locations were made in good faith, that valuable minerals exist on the claims, that development work has been prosecuted without intent of fraud and that the mineral location laws of the United States and of the State of Nevada have been observed.

WATER POWER
There also is denial that the defendants seek possession of the lands under any guise or pretext for the purpose of utilizing the water or water power resources of the river or the storage reservoir or power dam sites adjacent, except for the purpose of extracting valuable minerals and for utilizing the water and power for the development and extraction of the precious metals in the claims. Statement is made that $14,400 has been spent in the bona-fide development of the claims, wholly with respect to their mineral resources. Ten mining claims especially are listed in the answer, with prayer that the court confirm their title to the defendants.

CAMERON GETS ANOTHER CONTINUANCE
(SPECIAL INVESTIGATION)
PHOENIX, Oct. 13.—Still another continuance has been granted in the United States Land Office case against Cameron and others, one that seeks cancellation of about a score of mineral locations in the depths of the Grand Canyon, east of Bright Angel Trail. The case now is set for November 16, next.

Direction for a resetting of the date of hearing was by a telegram from the Secretary of the Interior. At the Land Office understanding is expressed that this was done at the request of Senator Ralph H. Cameron, who wishes to appear as a "material witness," and who now is engaged as a member of the Senatorial committee investigating western reclamation projects. These claims were located regularly, before the ground they cover was withdrawn from entry by formation of the Grand Canyon National Park, in which they lie.

Governmental agents, who have made inspection, declare that no mineral of value lies within the area, while the defendants assert the existence of platinum and other precious metals in quantity that would repay development and operation. The section is one where the Colorado River runs within high and precipitous walls of black granite.

Slain Woman's Estate Found Exaggerated

(SPECIAL INVESTIGATION)
SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) Oct. 13.—The value of the estate of Mrs. Ada McCobb, who was killed with a hammer September 25, last has been greatly exaggerated according to an application for appointment of appraisers filed with County Judge Augustus McCloskey, by John Cunningham, temporary administrator.

The application stated that the administrator has read hundreds of letters and papers and has been unable to find any property except jewels and other articles found in trunks here. Neither has he been able to get in communication with persons mentioned in papers, he said. Many of his letters have been returned undelivered.

Judge McCloskey appointed Robert M. Mitchell, Joe Frost and Herman Baetz of this city, to appraise the estate.

Cunningham filed an inventory of the property he has found which included $1081.30 on deposit in the Central Trust Company, $17.75 deposited with the City National Bank, two checks for $75 each, a large assortment of jewelry and some fur garments.

CROP WORTH MILLIONS

The company's irrigation system is the largest privately owned enterprise of its kind in the United States. It represents an investment of approximately $1,000,000.

CANADA FACES BALLOT BATTLE

Election to be Conducted on 29th Inst

Premier King Seeking 'to Return to Office'

Four Planks of Platform Outlined

(REUTERS DISPATCH) OTTAWA (Can.) Oct. 13.—Citing four planks in his platform as sufficient reason why his government should go to the people for endorsement, Hon. William Lyon Mackenzie King, Premier of Canada, is in the thick of an election campaign which will terminate on the 29th inst., when the people of the Dominion will go to the polls to mark their ballots.

Normally, the life of a Canadian Parliament is five years, but King and his colleagues are waiving their right to cling to office for another twelve months. In his election statement the Premier expressed the opinion that only a House of Commons fresh from the people can possibly handle the important measures with which the government must grapple, and he is willing, for the sake of the issues involved, to forego what he is perfectly correct in terming his right to hold office until the end of 1928.

The four planks upon which Premier King is bidding for reelection are: transportation, immigration, fiscal policy and reformation of the Senate. From the Canadian point of view it would have been difficult to have picked more pertinent subjects upon which to wage a campaign. Each is of vital portance to the country at large, upon which a wise handling, individually and collectively, depends the prosperity and the country for the next half decade.

The country needs settlers of the right kind. Hereafter, the policy has been of a hit or miss variety. The government welcomed all and sundry. In the few years preceding the war immigrants were pouring into the country like a tidal wave. But the depression period during and following the war acted as a brake on incoming settlers. The hordes of new citizens were principally white collar workers or day laborers. Few tillers of the soil were numbered among the hosts and it is to these that Canada must look for future development. The government has inaugurated a more conservative policy of handpicking her farmers from the United States, Great Britain, Holland and the Scandinavian countries. In some cases financial assistance has been extended. The government has lined up both railways and the proposition and a thorough system of co-operation is producing good results.

Transportation is a knotty problem. Canada's railroads have been merged until only two national systems remain: the Canadian Pacific, a private corporation; and the Canadian National, owned by the government. The roads parallel each other all across Canada and as a result of overlapping a cry has gone forth for amalgamation. This amalgamation has met with opposition from the Premier, who contends that an amalgamation of the two roads would create the world's longest railroad monopoly and would reflect unfavorably on the country. The Canadian battle between the roads has expressed a willingness to entertain such a proposition on its terms.

ARIZONA PIONEER DIES ON TRAIN IN ALABAMA

CONFEDERATE VETERAN WAS FORMER SHERIFF AND LEGISLATOR

(REUTERS DISPATCH)

TUCSON (Ariz.) Oct. 13.—Capt. C. B. Kaiton, one of the most notable of Arizona pioneers, died on a train at Greenville, Ala., while on his way to Tucson here to take part in a pioneer celebration. He was a Confederate soldier and later was in charge of a wagon train that brought him to Arizona in 1864. He was a time when he conducted a Tucson hotel, he usually held official position. He was Sheriff of Cochise county, a border line rider and deputy collector of customs as well as a deputy United States Marshal. He also served in the Arizona Legislature and for several terms was sergeant at arms. A prized honor was that of being the oldest member of the Tucson lodge of Elks, which was his sponsor at the Elks Home at Bedford, Va., where he had spent some time. His age is believed to have been about 86 years. After him was named a railroad station south of Cochise. He had never married.

GLOBE MASONS BURN TEMPLE MORTGAGE

(REUTERS DISPATCH)

GLOBE (Ariz.) Oct. 13.—With all ceremony the mortgage on the Globe Masonic Temple has been burned, incineration being in a copper urn that had been cast for the purpose in the International smelter. The lodge, named after the near-by White Mountains, was organized in 1878 and the temple first occupied in October, 1912. The mortgage was cleared away almost exactly twelve years thereafter. At the ceremonial an especially honored member, Thomas A. Pascoe, to whom is accredited the major part of the work that led to the erection of the structure.

The association is to receive a gross revenue of 1/4 cent per pound, which is 1/4 cent lower than the commission granted the preceding twelve months to the Oklahoma Farmers' Union. # The AMPICO

THE ALL OF THE PIANO

Only through the combination of Ampico Recordings played on the Ampico Re-Enacting Piano can you faithfully hear over 200 of the world's foremost pianists, outside of their infrequent and highly priced personal appearances before the public.

An Ideal Materialized

THE Ampico has more exclusive patented features than any other reproducing instrument. However, the Ampico is vastly more than a mere assemblage of patented features. The patents are, after all, only incidents in the progressive development of a wonderful conception—the conception of an instrument capable of re-enacting with uncanny fidelity the playing of the great masters of the piano, so that it is possible to hear their exact playing of the great music of all times at will in one's own home.

The Ampico is that conception materialized and perfected. However deeply you may study systems of recording and re-enactment, and however great your admiration of the instrument itself, never forget that dominating conception of the PURPOSE for which the Ampico exists.

THE two hundred premier geniuses of the piano world who record for the AMPICO, include the six over-towering virtuosi: Rachmaninoff, Lhevinne, Moiseiwitsch, Levitzki, Ornstein and Nyiregyhazi—now and always EXCLUSIVE Ampico artists!

Added to this mighty group of over 200 Titans of pianodom who record for the Ampico, the possessor of this "Arabian Nights Wonder" may invoke the magic genii of the entire realm of pianodom.

It is fitting therefore that such an imposing array of pianistic talent should be heard only through the medium of the world's foremost pianos—and these are available in the PRE-EMINENT MAKES OF INSTRUMENTS in which the Ampico may be had as an integral and invisible part.

The wide range of prices at which the Ampico may be secured, makes it unnecessary for anyone to content themselves with a compromise choice. Note the list of distinguished instruments below, the modest minimum prices, and the eminent standing of the three Los Angeles houses representing the Ampico in the respective makes.

Any one of these houses will gladly demonstrate the Ampico to you, giving you a concert by famous pianists of rare excellence; and if you desire terms these will be arranged to your entire satisfaction.

There is but one AMPICO. It is obtainable only in the distinguished makes of pianos represented by the dealers named below.

ADULT EDUCATION URGED

Superintendents Told Establishment of Important System Coming

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 13.—From establishment of adult education in the country will be the outstanding educational accomplishment of the next twenty years, according to the prediction made today by the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, Dr. W. H. Higgins, at the main address of this morning's session of the annual conference of county, city and district school superintendents, meeting here at the Hotel California.

Dr. Higgins outlined the importance of the movement, and urged the establishment of a country-wide system of adult education. He pointed out that the country is now faced with a serious problem of illiteracy, and that the only way to solve it is by establishing a system of adult education. He urged the superintendents to take action to establish such a system in their respective jurisdictions.

He pointed out that the country is now faced with a serious problem of unemployment, and that the only way to solve it is by establishing a system of vocational training. He urged the superintendents to take action to establish such a system in their respective jurisdictions.

Dr. Higgins also outlined the importance of technical education, and urged the superintendents to take action to establish such a system in their respective jurisdictions. ## Beauty

"BEAUTY IS THE FIRST PRESENT NATURE GIVES TO WOMAN AND THE FIRST IT TAKES AWAY."—"BEAUTY IS BUT A FLOWER WHICH WRINKLES WILL DEVOUR."

Beauty is power; a present given to every woman; a flower which grows more and more beautiful through intelligent, faithful care; "a flower which wrinkles will devour," only through neglect and carelessness.

Cleansing the Skin

OF first importance in the correct care of the skin, is its thorough cleansing. Elizabeth Arden prepares a cream which liquifies upon being applied to the warm skin and penetrates to the depths of the pores removing all accumulated dust and powder.

For removing the excess cream, instead of harsh towels, Elizabeth Arden recommends the use of Cleansing Tissues, which will not stretch or irritate the most sensitive skin.

Choice Location vs. High Rent

Modern retail business knows that location spells either success or failure.

Proper location for a retailer is the first step towards success. The great difficulty is to get the choice location without being burdened by excessive rent.

Hence the birth of the SPECIALTY SHOP BUILDING. It has been proved beyond question, that a shop located in the very heart of the choicest retail section, upstairs, is far more successful than a poor location on the ground floor.

The FINE ARTS BUILDING is more than a specialty shop building. It will be a revelation to the shopping public of Los Angeles.

From the first step into the magnificent foyer, from the first glance at the illuminated fountain, from the first vision of the stately groups and bas-reliefs, the shopper will be impelled to look further.

Many Nationally known concerns will have space in the Fine Arts Building,—each will be an asset to the others.

While the plans of the Fine Arts are being worked out, tenants may have ateliers arranged to suit their particular requirements.

Rentals are exceedingly moderate. Building ready for occupancy October 1st, 1936.

DE MILLE
WINNER IN FILM SUIT

Verdict Clears Director from Assorted Theft of
Idea for Picture

Word was received yesterday by Cecil B. De Mille and the Famous Players-Lasky studio of a judgment in their favor rendered by United States District Judge Riley in Atlanta, Ga. In the suit brought by Mrs. Mattie Thomas Thompson charging appropriation of the idea for "The Ten Commandments."

Commenting on the vindication of the producers of the film epic, Jeannie McPherson, scenarist for De Mille declared it is possible she and De Mille may file a slander suit against Mrs. Thompson. Miss McPherson was the chief witness for the defendants at the trial, returning Monday from Atlanta. Hallett Abend, former Los Angeles newspaper man, and Barrett Kiesel, publicity director for De Mille, have returned from Atlanta, where they testified for the defendants.

According to Miss McPherson, Mrs. Thompson declared in her suit that she conceived the idea for "The Ten Commandments" in 1924 and submitted it in scenario form to Lasky in 1925. The manuscript was never returned, Miss McPherson said Mrs. Thompson charged.

in Survey Work

More than 100 pictures of boy life will be shown in the boys' work survey, which will be exhibited Thursday and Friday in the president's parlors at the University of Southern California. Thirty-fifth street and University avenue.

The pictures are the result of an eight months' survey of boy life and problems in Los Angeles made by the department of sociology of the university under the auspices of the Rotary Club. They show the activity of Los Angeles youth, both well-occupied and encountering social and physical dangers.

The study was started last January under direction of Dr. Emory S. Bogardus, head of the university sociological department, at the instigation of Dr. Ray D. Robinson of the Rotary Club. Aid was given by officials of the elementary and high schools, playground churches, emergency hospitals, jails, organized foreign groups, the community welfare organization, Boy Scouts, Western Rangers and the Y.M.C.A. More than 4000 individual cases were studied.

NEWS OF THE CAFES

Klemmer's Blue Plate Cafe in the new Plaza Hotel in Hollywood will hold its formal opening tomorrow evening. Special invitations to a number of honor guests for dinner in the new cafe have been issued.

The dining-room, which accommodates 150 guests, includes as a feature special corners reserved for business and professional men, similar to "The Amen Corner" of the old Tremont Hotel in Boston. The Blue Plate Cafe is equipped with comfortable and roomy Cathedral style booths, finished in leather and American walnut, and with a partitioned counter with revolving chair seats, in addition to a center space of good proportions with the usual table service. The wall and center column decorations are of Spanish and Moorish type in tiled mosaic pattern interspersed with templates.

A tea garden where afternoon affairs and evening parties may be held has been modeled at the rear of the cafe after that of the Italian Villa at Santa Barbara, with an entrance from the hotel foyer. An overhanging canopy gives the garden necessary protection.

Mrs. Michael Klemmer, who owns and operates the Marine Yacht in South Spring street, is also the proprietor of the Blue Plate Cafe.

Many motion-picture celebrities have planned their Halloween celebrations at the Cafe Lafayette, according to reservations already made with Harry M. Miller, manager of the West Seventh street dining and dancing emporium.

Favors favoring of the Halloween spirit will be given. Roy Fox and his orchestra will play special ghost dance music, and festive decorations for the occasion will adorn the cafe. A prize for the cinema star who sends in the best recipe for that seasonal delicacy, pumpkin pie, to be placed on the menu, is being offered by Mr. Miller. Jean Mostell, the Lafayette's supervising chef, will prepare the old New England delight from the winning recipe on that night.

Gertrude Aar, motion picture actress, will be the guest of honor and will award the prize for the Charleston contest at Brandt's Hollywood Montmartre cafe this evening when Motion Picture Night will be celebrated.

In addition to the regular dancing and Charleston numbers, O. L. Moore, who will act as master of ceremonies, will present several high-class vaudeville specialties, including an eccentric dancing act by Jack M. Beilafor.

So many requests for another afternoon of dancing have been received by the Montmartre that in addition to the matinee dancers on Wednesday and Saturday of each week, starting this week, there will be dancing there on Friday afternoon. The music at that time will be furnished by Vince Ross and his orchestra with the same presentation as on the other matinee days.

Last-minute preparations are being made this week to celebrate Halloween at the Ship Cafe, Venice, on Saturday night, the 31st inst., with a Mardi Gras festival and dance. Ward McPadden, proprietor of the Ship, has arranged a program for the evening and night that will include the distribution of appropriate souvenirs and favors as mementos of the occasion. Special dance numbers will be played by Walter Lyon and his jazz orchestra in a musical program replete with pep.

From inquiries made to the management, a record-breaking crowd is expected to gather at the Ship in a memorable Halloween party, adornment of the cafe interior with fitting Halloween decorations will be completed this week.

BANKERS OFFER NEW SECURITIES

Four Issues Will be Placed on Market Here Today

Eastern Office Building First Mortgages to be Sold

Miller & Lux, Inc., Announce Remainder of Financing

New financing announced yesterday, including four issues of real estate, industrial and farm loan securities, aggregating $24,250,000, will be offered today by investment bankers throughout the country.

A new issue of $10,000,000 Eastern Terminal Office Building first mortgage leasehold 5 1/2 per cent sinking fund bonds will be offered by S. W. Straus & Co. at par and accrued interest to net 5 1/2 per cent. The bonds are legal investment for banks and are due August 1, 1943.

The bonds are secured by a direct clean mortgage on the twenty-nine-story office, bank and store building now under construction in New York City, and long-term New York Central leasehold estate, occupying the entire city block adjoining the Grand Central Station and the Commodore Hotel. The building its owners assert, will be the largest office building in floor area in the world, of the most modern type of design, equipment and finish, and will be connected directly with the main concourse of the Grand Central Station and with New York City's subway system.

Net annual rental earnings of the building after all expenses, and with a liberal allowance for vacancies, are estimated at $1,487,000 a year, more than twice the greatest annual interest requirement and nearly $500,000 in excess of the greatest annual principal and interest charges.

FARM LOAN BONDS

An issue of $10,000,000 San Antonio Joint Stock Land Bank 5 per cent farm loan bonds, due September 1, 1935, is being offered by Hayden, Stone & Co. and Brewster, Perry, Stacy & Co. at 103 and interest to yield 4.62 per cent to the option date, September 1, 1935, and 5 per cent thereafter.

The bonds, which are completely exempt from all Federal, State and local income taxes, are secured by deposit of first mortgages on improved farm lands having an appraised value of at least 200 per cent of the mortgages or by United States bonds or certificates of indebtedness.

The San Antonio Joint Stock Land Bank, operating in Texas and Oklahoma, has a strong management, consisting of men who have had long and successful experience in banking and the farm-mortgage business in the territory in which the bank operates. Its loaning territory is one of the most desirable fields for joint stock land bank operations.

REALTY FINANCING

Peirce, Fair & Co. and Blyth, Witter & Co. will offer an issue of $10,000,000 Miller & Lux, Inc., secured 7 per cent gold notes, which represent the final offering of an authorized $25,000,000 issue of securities to finance cultivation and development of the 800,000 acres of California land of the holding company.

The notes will be a direct obligation of Miller & Lux, Inc., and will be particularly secured by deposits with the Bank of California, National Association, of San Francisco, trustee. Proceeds of the issue, together with the proceeds of the $15,000,000 first mortgage 6 per cent bonds, will be used to retire the present mortgage indebtedness and other present obligations, and to provide cash working capital to carry out the plans contemplated by the new directorate.

OFFER TEA STOCK

An issue of $3,250,000 National Tea Company 6 1/2 per cent cumulative preferred stock, par value $100, will be offered today by Merrill, Lynch & Co. at $106 a share and 4.50 per cent. The capitalization of the company, upon the completion of this financing, will consist of an authorized $5,000,000 6 1/2 per cent cumulative preferred, of which $3,250,000 will be outstanding, and 150,000 shares of no par value common, all of which is outstanding.

The proceeds of this issue will be used to retire the present issue of $1,500,000 7 per cent preferred stock and to provide the funds for the further development of business.

The National Tea Company operates 723 stores, 125 of which were added to the chain during the first seven months of this year. It is understood that the greater part of the new funds will be used for the establishing of new stores.

BUSINESS TODAY

(Copyright, 1925, New York Evening Post, Inc.)
NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—Executive positions in companies that do a large electric or gas business, are looked upon with particular favor nowadays by men in search of opportunity. No man would leave a vice-presidency in the Columbia Gas and Electric Company for a new field these days, assured by faith that he had found something in which growth would be big and certain.

BANCITALY DRAWS BUYERS

Speculators Hope for Par Value Reduction as Part of Popular Ownership Plan, Publicity Obtained

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Just what is behind the spectacular advances in Bank of Italy and Bancitaly Corporation, the two Glanini creations, is a source of wonder to that new group of speculators, the traders in bank shares. Both stocks regularly strike fresh peaks with surprising ease, even in the face of Mr. Glanini's denial of dividend increases and his statements deploring the speculation in the shares of the two institutions.

If further dividend increases are out of the question for either of the two stocks, the speculators reason that something else is brewing, or the stocks would have settled back before this time. Concerning Bank of Italy, the gossip is that an important deal is pending in San Francisco that will materially affect the market price of the stock. The consummation of the transaction is supposed to have awaited the return of Mr. Glanini from the American Bankers' Association convention.

MINE STOCK COLLAPSES ON BAD NEWS
Prince Consolidated Off on Report of Suspended Operations at Pioche

Withdrawal of financial interests identified with the development of the Prince Consolidated Mining Company's properties at Pioche, Nev., and the decision of the directors to suspend operations started an avalanche of selling in the stock yesterday on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange that broke prices from 20 to 5 cents on the opening sale. More than 60,000 shares were thrown on the market at prices around 4-1/2 and 5 cents.

Most of the selling represented liquidation of margin accounts. It was reported on the floor of the exchange, the flood of selling that precipitated the collapse of stock yesterday's closing price of 20 cents came early in the morning session, after the receipt of the news from the company announcing the suspension of operations. From one source, it was learned that an assessment is expected within the week, and that the company is in a financial straits.

The telegram from David B. Gimmell, president of Prince Consolidated, was received by C. W. Finigan of Finigan & Miller, members of the exchange. The message said: "Owing to our inability to further finance operations by loans from the Western Mines Securities Company, we have suspended operations. We are unable to meet the situation and decide upon some action."

In the meantime and until the directors can meet we will keep the mine unwounded. During this period we will continue to operate as far as possible, and we are invited to come and see the mine. The telegram from David B. Gimmell, president of Prince Consolidated, was received by C. W. Finigan of Finigan & Miller, members of the exchange. The message said: "Owing to our inability to further finance operations by loans from the Western Mines Securities Company, we have suspended operations. We are unable to meet the situation and decide upon some action."

SPLIT-UP POSSIBLE
Possibly the publication through the country recently of the list of stocks owned by the Bancitaly Corporation was part of a definite plan to acquaint the public with the operations and business of this company. The statement attracted considerable attention, and would have been of material assistance in inducing the stock to the public if a New York Stock Exchange listing were contemplated.

Before, however, a popularization campaign of Bancitaly stock is feasible, a split-up of the stock would undoubtedly have to come. At $210 a share, the stock is too high-priced for the pocketbook of the small investor, but on a par value of $25, which would reduce the market price to a point around $75 a share, the shares might find ready acceptance from the small buyers.

FUSION REPORTED
Aside from the interest in the possibility of a stock split-up, the market is closely watching the performance of the new Liberty bank system, the latest banking venture of Mr. Glanini's. This bank, which is controlled by the Bancitaly Corporation, is buying small banks throughout Northern California and now has about fifteen. In the southern part of the State, the American branch bank system, which the Bancitaly Corporation owns nearly 11,000 shares, is similarly expanding. It would seem that a consolidation of the Liberty and the American branch banks would be the ultimate development, but this has been denied by Bank of Italy headquarters in San Francisco.

It is possible, however, that a union of the two systems may come in the near future, and succeeds in decisively defeating the proposals in the McFadden bill, which would restrict branch banking of Federal reserve members to the city limits in which the head office is located. The Liberty bank is not a member of the Federal reserve system, and is intended as a convenient medium for branch bank expansion if the McFadden proposals are incorporated into the law.

If the danger of national legislation against branch banking is removed, the necessity for a non-Federal reserve branch bank system would be obviated, and the path cleared for a consolidation of the Liberty and American branch groups.

Electric Refrigerating Will Do a Record Business in 1926, Says Sereel Corporation Chairman, and "Will Be Selling Machines Short for Next Five Years."

BY PAUL WILLARD GARRETT
turned out upon the streets hungry, is not the view of this leader in the new industry, but so great is the demand for machines, he adds, that "the manufacturers must begin to supply the demand."

About 350,000 ice machines now are in use in this country. Since the industry to date has been spending its principal efforts in organization and the perfection of machines sales have been limited by inability of the company to produce fast enough. Apparently the industry has now reached a position where production may be expected to mount in good style. More machines will be turned out next year alone than now are in operation. Probably 500,000 or more machines will be produced in 1926 so that by the end of next year 850,000 would be in use.

COSTS TO BE PAID
It is from households that the manufacturers expect an especially large demand for machines in the next few years, for every electric light customer is a potential customer for the electric refrigerating companies. The convenience, the cleanliness, the efficiency and the economy of the machines make their appeal to housewives. Other interesting uses are being found for the machines, however, that have been anticipated. One such new use Mr. Scott illustrates by an order that his company closed last week with a large ship fixture. The order was for 500,000 in machines for 1926 delivery. Orders were placed as well for 1927 and 1928 deliveries. The new machines are to be used in butcher shops for display purposes to replace the old-fashioned show-cases filled with ice.

THE BANK OF CALIFORNIA, NATIONAL ASSOCIATION, SAN FRANCISCO, TRUSTEE

The following information has been furnished us by the Company:

SECURITY

These notes will be a direct obligation of Miller & Lux, Incorporated, particularly secured by the deposit with The Bank of California, N. A., Trustee, of substantially all securities, of subsidiary or other corporations, owned by Miller & Lux, Incorporated. The trust indenture will provide for the sale, exchange and substitution of collateral from time to time upon the consent of the trustee. It will contain suitable provisions obligating the company to maintain the status of the deposited collateral in a manner satisfactory to the trustee. The proceeds from the sale of the deposited collateral will be paid into a sinking fund for the retirement of these notes, in the manner provided in the trust indenture.

The deposited collateral will include the following securities:

1. All of the shares (except directors' qualifying shares), owned by Miller & Lux, Incorporated, in subsidiary corporations which own a comprehensive system of dams, canals, ditches, etc., constructed over a long period of years, for supplying water for irrigation to a territory comprising about 300,000 acres in the San Joaquin Valley. The sale of the entire properties of these companies to The San Joaquin River Water Storage District is now under negotiation. These properties have been appraised by Fred H. Tibbets, San Francisco, representing Miller & Lux, Incorporated, and A. Kempkey, San Francisco, representing The San Joaquin River Water Storage District, who have placed a present value thereon of $13,742,100. After deducting the proportion thereof represented by stocks in said companies which is not owned by Miller & Lux, Incorporated, $11,547,189 of appraised value is left as security for these notes.

2. All of the capital stock (except directors' qualifying shares) of the Pacific Live Stock Company, which owns lands, live stock and other property in the States of Oregon, Utah, Idaho and Nevada. This Company is free from indebtedness except current accounts. Its stock is carried on the books of Miller & Lux, Incorporated, at the conservative value of $3,559,297. The Company's lands alone were appraised by the Federal Government for inheritance tax purposes in 1916 at $2,190,546.

3. Other miscellaneous securities (including $1,981,047 of land sales contracts) carried on the books of Miller & Lux, Incorporated as of July 31, 1925, at an aggregate value of $2,775,653.

4. These notes will also be secured by a mortgage on all real estate located in the State of California owned by the Company, subject to the Company's first mortgage or deed of trust. Its ranch lands alone, (exclusive of many miscellaneous parcels of country and city real estate, including the Company's valuable San Francisco industrial site) were appraised for this financing by Mr. Philip Johnson at $29,604,820, or an excess of $14,604,820 over the Company's $15,000,000 First Mortgage 6% Gold Bonds.

PURPOSE OF ISSUE

The proceeds of these notes, together with the proceeds of $15,000,000 First Mortgage 6% Bonds, will be used to retire the Company's present mortgage indebtedness, bank loans, and other present obligations (except nominal current accounts) and to provide cash working capital to carry out plans contemplated by the new directorate.

MANAGEMENT

The management of Miller & Lux, Incorporated will presently be in the hands of a new directorate consisting of seven members. Magnitude of Operation of Borden Company, Successor of Borden Condensed Milk Company Not Generally Known—Manufacturing Branch of Business Highly Profitable.

(Exclusive Dispatch)
[Copyright, 1925, New York Evening Post, Inc.]
NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—Although it does the bulk of the milk and dairy products distributing business in New York City and surrounding territory and occupies a similarly important position in the daily life of other large cities, including Chicago and Montreal, the full scope of the operations of the Borden Company are not generally known.

Organized in 1919 as a holding company to succeed its predecessor, the Borden Condensed Milk Company, which in 1899 took over a business originally established in 1867, it controls through absolute ownership, three subsidiary companies engaged in the distribution of fresh milk and dairy products in big metropolitan areas, and six others engaged in manufacturing operations.

MANUFACTURING PROFITABLE
While the dairy products branch of the company is operated on a comparatively small profit margin, the manufacturing end is productive of a handsome return on the investment made. Its products are known and looked upon as standard the world over.

Manufacturing facilities consist of twenty-six condenseries located in all parts of the United States and Canada, two confectionery plants and two malted milk plants. To meet the needs of the dairy products branch, the company maintains nine farms, 157 bottling plants and receiving stations, ten city paraffining plants, fifty-eight distributing depots, with the necessary wagons, horses, motors and repair shops.

Free from bonded indebtedness and with its only debt outside of current accounts consisting of a few small mortgages, its stocks have enjoyed an unbroken participation in earnings through dividend disbursements for a period of twenty-five years. In that quarter of a century there has never been occasion to omit a payment.

On the contrary, several extra dividends have been made. For over twenty-two years the common stock has received payments at the annual rate of 8 per cent, and extras of 1 1/2 per cent were paid in 1923, 2 per cent each in 1924, 1925, 1926 and 1927 were paid. A small special dividend of 10 per cent was distributed in 1917.

RECAPITALIZED LATELY
Early this year stockholders approved a reduction in the par value of the common stock to $50 a share from $100, and dividends have been maintained in the same ratio as prevailed on the old stock. No change was made in the preferred stock structure, but both preferred and common shareholders were given valuable subscription rights. These, however, expired on July 15, last.

When the stock so offered has been fully paid for and the certificates issued, the company will have a capitalization consisting of $7,500,000 cumulative 8 per cent preferred stock and $27,439,300 common stock of $50 par value. Its current financial position is excellent, with current assets in ratio of almost three to one over current liabilities.

Gross business has shown constant increase from year to year and net available for dividends has shown such requirement covered by an ample margin. For the five-year period from 1919 to 1923 the annual average for the old stock was equivalent to 16.71 per cent a share.

WALL STREET PARAGRAPHS
Influx of Gold Removes Fear of Early Rise in Bank Rate

(Exclusive Dispatch)
[Copyright, 1925, New York Evening Post, Inc.]
NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—Wall Street today felt quite confident that the current week would pass off without any "discount rate" surries. The betterment revealed in the bank statement and the influx of gold from abroad, too late probably to be included next Saturday in the clearinghouse figures, were factors tending to remove any and all fears that the Federal reserve bank might raise its discount rate. The call-money rate hardened in successive advances from the 4-1/2 per cent renewal, but the street was prepared for higher cost of accommodations, as fall business began to assert itself in a broadening tendency. Price records went by the board in a number of issues and the advance in 6. B. Krege shares was greater than the open quotation of many individual issues. Profit-taking developed during the day, but selling at all times, was well absorbed. The air was filled with split-up talk and discussion of prospective dividend action, and so long as this persisted, the street seemed sure of its ground that the trend still was upward, with occasional reactionary movements, from which the market was expected to come back with greater vim. Group movements continued apace in which motors, featuring General Motors and Studebaker, and the merchandising stocks, including Associated, Gimbel's and Kresge, were the outstanding individual issues.

Important Question
The oil stocks failed to develop any new trend, but the industry was keenly watching the opening of patent litigation involving cracking processes in which the government was taking a hand. It was an open question among many of the oil men regarding the control of such an important phase in the industry as that dominating the cracking of heavy oils into gasoline. And with notice served on many users of one or another of the processes used, the street appeared to be taking greater interest in the subject, which promises to expand in importance before it passes into history.

Making History
Speculative imagination was fired as S. B. Krege shares went first unrecorded, reaching the price during the noon hour reaching $90. Persistent was the intimation that the "corner" quotation of $100 a share obtained by Northern Pacific twenty-four years ago was about to be duplicated by Krege stock, although there was no hint of a corner. That a ten-for-one split-up was being worked out in detail was the broad inference gathered in the financial district. The opening deal was 800 shares at $90 a share, involving an outlay of $72,000. The brokerage commission at the rate of 190 per 100 shares was $136. The street heard further tales of the extraordinary paper profits piling up in Krege, of which the most interesting coming to light was of a 4000-share block in which more than $2,000,000 had been added to the purchase price.

Changing Ideas
The death of J. B. Duke had led to the belief in some quarters that Wall Street might meet a flood of selling, particularly among the tobacco shares, but once more it was demonstrated that this market was too broad to be affected by individual preferences or dislikes. In fact, there was real strength shown by holders of the industry, with according to bankers' advice, was a forerunner of higher prices for cigarettes in the near future.

Speeding Motors
New highs were the order of the day for the active motor stocks. Studebaker led the way, and Dodge Brothers and General Motors were active participants in the broad forward movement. It was the street's understanding that Studebaker directors would meet for dividend action before the end of the month, and in view of the record earnings and bright outlook, an increase above the $4 dividend rate was anticipated. Dodge Brothers' strength was attributed to conversion privileges attendant upon holders of the debenture bonds, while the strong cash position and possibility of another extra were the main talking points for General Motors.

Important Link
Dividend action had been looked for on National Biscuit and early strength in the shares suggested an extra dividend. However, the board meeting was postponed until later in the month, but the street was confident that an extra dividend—11, was the amount mentioned—would be arranged. Incidentally, the same assurance was felt that American Can would be split up around Xmas. Year's, but doubt prevailed as to whether it would be late in December or an early January development. The such a program would be fulfilled, was the street's hope and belief, and the seven-for-one exchange effected for biscuit through a four-for-one split-up and 75 per cent stock dividend, ever was in mind, owing to the fact that similar interests controlled the destiny of both concerns.

News of Spring Street

Announcement was made in Nashville, Tenn., recently of plans for a $30,000,000 merger of coal, iron and lumber companies, in which John McE. Bowman and Col. Jacob Huppert of New York and William Wrigley, Jr., of Chicago were named as associates of William J. Cummings of Nashville.

Mr. Cummings was convicted and sent to Sing Sing in 1913 for the conversion to his own use of $140,000 of the funds of the defunct Carnegie Trust Company, of which he was chairman of the board of directors. He was pardoned in 1916 and since then has staged a remarkable "comeback."

The proposed merger will include the Chattanooga Gas and Coke Company, the Tennessee Consolidated Coal Company, the Southern Ferro-Alloys Company, the J. H. Gray, Jr., Foundry and the Bon Air Coal Company. Mr. Cummings is said to have effected the merger after a year of negotiations, and the consolidation is one of the largest of its kind in the coal and iron industry in many years.

William J. Wrigley, Jr., will be chairman of the new company. Mr. Bowman is a hotel owner in New York, and controls the company which owns the Los Angeles Biltmore Hotel.

Reports on Kay Mine

Arizona Trade Review Shows Improving Tone
(Exclusive Dispatch)
PHOENIX, Oct. 13.—In the monthly report of the Arizona Industrial Congress, estimate is made that the Arizona cotton crop will approximate 54,000 bales, or about 5000 more than the previous estimate. Growings to the 1st inst. aggregated 16,672 bales.

There has been a general increase of winter vegetable crops, especially of lettuce, of which there will be 6000 acres, double the acreage last year. Cattle shipments for the first six months of the year totaled 126,000 head, compared with 87,000 for the same period in 1924.

While the copper market has sagged a bit, transactions for the past month showed a material betterment over those of the previous month.

is Buying Impetus

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—Enormous profit-taking sales, based on stiffening money rates and the belief in some quarters that the rapidity of the recent advance had weakened the technical position of the market, impeded, but failed to halt, the genuine upward movement of prices in today's stock market. Total sales again ran over 2,000,000 shares.

Operators for the rise found encouragement in the unexpectedly large increase in the September unilled orders of the United States Steel Corporation, which were announced after the close on Saturday; the optimistic reports from the Locarno conference; publication of additional favorable industrial earnings reports; hardening of steel, zinc and copper prices. Upward of two million shares broke through to new high levels for the year. The most spectacular gain was a jump of 100 points in S. S. Kresge, which touched a record top at $100 and then slipped back to 77½, as against a low of $55 earlier in the year.

Steels showed a temporary break of strength at the opening, but failed to maintain their gains. United States Steel common opened nearly a point higher at 124½ and then slipped back to 123 at the close.

MOTOR PAIR UP

Motor and accessory stocks were given another upward impetus by the leadership of General Motors common and Studebaker, which touched new 1923 maximum prices at 120 3-4 and 68 3-4, respectively.

Oils showed a temporary break of strength in the late trading under the leadership of Standard Oil of California, which crossed 49 to a new high level for the year. Spirited buying of local gas shares was another

Asserted "Protection" by Contreras Proven False as Dry Chief Jails Man

Remarks said to have been made by Charles Griff that he was paying $50 a month protection money to George Contreras, chief enforcement officer, and investigator Smith of the District Attorney's office yesterday led to his incarceration in the County Jail for violation of parole.

Griff, who lives in West Hollywood, was arrested Monday by police of the Hollywood station as a suspected bootlegger. He had been arrested two months ago by Contreras, charged with transporting liquor, and sentenced by Justice Wilson of El Monte to ninety days in jail, later winning a parole on his promise to behave.

Contreras heard of his remarks. It was said, took him from police custody and put him back to serve the rest of his sentence.

"If he's paying me protection money I'll show him it doesn't protect," the enforcement officer remarked.

Hearing Fixed in Fatal Auto Accident Case

Preliminary hearing for Police Officer C. R. Davis, charged with manslaughter in a complaint filed by Dep. Dist. Atty. Hammer, was set for the 22nd inst., by Justice Wood yesterday. Davis was the driver of the automobile in which Mrs. Mildred Olive Walters Wright, young divorcee, was riding when she was killed early Friday morning.

Davis's bond was set at $5000. A coroner's jury last Saturday exonerated Davis by finding that Mrs. Wright came to her death as the result of an "avoidable accident."

Police Officer Charles W. Schaut was in the car at the time of the accident, which occurred at Sunset boulevard and Mohawk street when the auto struck the curb and a telephone pole.

Sales Expert Tells Ad Club Next Decade Will Result in Great Progress

"With its matchless climate, wonderful soil, its harbor, industries, educational facilities and art and its enterprising citizenry, Los Angeles will make such progress within the next decade as will make the promises of the Chamber of Commerce sound like the growl of a pessimist."

That is the opinion voiced yesterday by Harry A. Earnshaw, nationally known sales and merchandising counselor, in an address given before the Advertising Club at the Biltmore.

Speaking on "Direct Mail, a Vital Medium in Advertising," Earnshaw said that the real responsibility for selling has shifted from the salesman to the man in the swivel chair.

"And if the swivel-chair man be the kind that asks 'Does advertising pay?' he had better exchange his chair for a rocking-chair," said the speaker. "Advertising is the biggest gun in the business of salesmanship and the power of the printing press is the greatest power on earth."

A feature of the meeting was the rendition of whistling solos by Allen Behrendt, Don Thomas, secretary of the club, announced that the speaker next Tuesday will be Charley Duncan, whose subject will be "Advertising of the Future."

RIVAL CLAIMANTS
Palm Beach is modestly billing itself as the fourth city of the world. How is it that every town tries to bump Chicago out of her station?

THE UPLIFTERS
Anyhow, man is the only animal who needs a brain lawyer to ease him from the consequences of his crimes. Possibly this is what we call civilization.

THE MADAME
According to a big sign Mrs. DuBarry is running a beauty college in old Sonoma town. No wonder that ancient but picturesque district is still turning out a flock of fine lookers.

REWARDS OF FAME
The Nobel prize committee has $4,000,000 to distribute. Thus a few of those who pursue the arts and sciences may hope to receive rewards rivaling those gained by baseball players and prize fighters.

BEHIND THE SCENES
It is said that the only man in the country who can blow double smoke rings lives in Washington. He should be handy in laying down a smoke screen to hide the movements of some of the politicians.

GOING UP
A preacher says that the pictures we have grade higher than the mob of spectators who see them. If this be the fact there is nothing for the reformers to worry about. The folks who hunt the movies are getting a bit of the uplift.

PHOTOGRAPHY
Just one century ago a French scientist, Nicéphore Niépce, invented the photographic process. Another Frenchman, Daguerre, improved the process and developed daguerotypes. Out of these clever efforts, then thought interesting but unimportant, the motion-picture industry has been evolved.

MODERN EVANGELISM
The Lutheran Church is sending a body of missionaries to Africa equipped in a new way. Instead of carrying nothing but Bibles and tracts the Lutherans are taking chickens, pigs, goats and cattle for the use of their converts as well as themselves. They believe in saving bodies as well as souls.

VIA WIRELESS
One of the radio magnates is signing up a lot of brilliant stars for wireless appearances. He is creating a program that will cost him $500,000 a year and he is said to have made contracts with many of the best singers and instrumentalists in the world. It is a roster of the elect, a page from the blue book of art. The radio will go marching on. There may be a lot of regulation and revision, but its service in the dispensation of the world's best music is not to be impaired.

THE POINT OF VIEW
A New York policeman was reprimanded for arresting a reporter who was carrying ten quarts of whisky in a handbag on the streets of the city. The magistrate intimated that to search and seize a citizen's luggage was the same as putting the hand into his pocket. There is no dispute about that, but sometimes the law does not hesitate to go into the pocket if it is primed with contraband. Some of the judges haven't yet learned that the Eighteenth Amendment can reach under the back seat of a motor car.

THE FISH STORY
According to a German scientist, the world supply of fish is drying up. The intimation of the professor is that in another 1000 years or so the folks who comb the sea for sardines will come home hungry. There will be no bass to bite and tuna will be as rare as seedless pines. This sounds a good deal like guff. Any time our sea food grows thin a legal protection for a season or two will bring it back in abundance. Nature is a mighty rapid builder when not interfered with. If a fish can lay 214,967 eggs in one afternoon, what is there to worry about?

SONG OF THE WORM
Science has created delicate instruments that can amplify the most inconsequential of sounds. We are told that the breathing of an ant can be expanded until it sounds like the roaring of Niagara. Among fresh disclosures we are informed that earthworms sing and that it is even possible to hear some of the sounds they make with the natural ear. It seems that the song of the worm is a long, flute-like note that might be mistaken for a guy starting off "Humoresque" on the violin. It is possible that the mournful chant of the worm in being used for bait is what serves as a lure for the soulful shad. But it would seem that if our worms can really sing they are entitled to more gracious treatment than they are receiving at our hands. It is time the worm turned.

THE "SYMPATHETIC STRIKE"
The "sympathetic-strike" idea is not likely to make much further progress in this country. According to a recent decision of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals at Cincinnati, "It is unlawful for a union to strike against a contractor solely because a dispute exists between another contractor and a union."

This decision confirms the illegality of sympathetic strikes; and it goes further; for it establishes the responsibility of the union for such strikes. The unions have not been able to escape responsibility by failure to incorporate; they are held responsible for mass or group action.

Radicals and anarchists who have striven ever since 1819 to incite to insurrection against the government through the so-called general strike will now find themselves in direct conflict with the law. One has but to recall the Seattle instance; when a revolt against the government was attempted through the use of the general strike. All the members of all the unions were to stop work at a given hour. Then they were to form into armed groups and forcibly prevent others from taking their places. Through this means they planned to secure control of the municipal government, to starve the populace into submission. Success at Seattle was to be followed by similar strikes in all the great industrial centers of the country. The plan was based on one that brought success in Russia in 1917, when the Kerensky government fell.

But the "Wobblies" and other Reds found to their discomfort that there is a difference between the citizenry of the United States and the ignorant masses of Russia. The Seattle revolt failed utterly. It accomplished nothing, even in Seattle; and the plotted revolts in other industrial districts were abandoned. The law proved incontestably stronger than radicalism.

Since that time, however, a number of sympathetic strikes have been called. Carpenters affiliated with the A. F. of L. frequently stop work in one city because the union masons are out in another city. But the decision of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals will have at least a deterrent effect on this misuse of power and authority by the walking delegates.

If "it is unlawful for a union to strike" under given conditions it is unlawful for the executive officers of the union to call such a strike; and it is unlawful for the walking delegates to call the men out. The purpose of this decision is plain. The Federal Court recognizes the menace to law and order, and the injustice to the public, as well as to the union men themselves, of such practices. Why should a carpenter in Chicago be forced to stop earning the food for the sustenance of his wife and babes because the bricklayers are having a dispute in New York? Why shall the public be made the victim of a purely industrial dispute?

Ramsay MacDonald recently sounded a warning to the labor unions of Great Britain that they must not persist in practices such as that just declared illegal by the Federal Court. He is himself a high labor official and was the Labor party Premier. He is quoted as saying, "The trade-unionist has the same limitations imposed upon him as the capitalist. He cannot advance his interest at the expense of society."

MacDonald did not express such views ten years ago. His experience at the head of the unions and at the head of the government has taught him that there are moral limits which the labor unions cannot pass with impunity. Combinations of labor can no more escape joint responsibility for mass action than combinations of capital. Each must be restrained when the private interest endangers the public welfare.

It is very possible that the high officials of the American Federation of Labor will pass resolutions condemning the action of the Federal Court of Appeals. But the officials themselves will be careful not to bring themselves into contempt in the view of the court. The federation itself, however, is losing some of its recent arrogance. It supported the attempted general strike in Seattle and has counseled mass strikes in other communities. But its policies have been deadly to the association itself. In 1920 the American Federation of Labor boasted a membership of affiliated unions of 4,078,740. Its executive report gives the membership for 1925 as 2,945,973. In the opinion of unprejudiced observers the membership will continue to dwindle until the federation abandons the un-American policy known as the closed shop and makes the employment of its members rest on merit and not on mob or mass action.

The closed-shop idea is repugnant to the spirit of liberty and fair play which is the basis of the power and authority of the American government; and the sympathetic strike is a brazen attempt to force a majority to accept dictation from a majority to a small minority. Such policies die in this country of their own imperfections. They crumble from within, just as the American Federation of Labor is crumbling.

SEE IT ALL!
The time approaches when a multitude of pleasure seekers from the cold country beyond the Rockies will be planning a program of change and recreation in regions free from the ice and snow and slush and the thousand and one inconveniences of an old-fashioned eastern winter. Many will hear and heed, at the first touch of frost and the premonitory chill of chaps, chilblains and numb fingers, the call of California and the spring song of the Pacific Coast.

In preparing his program for a sojourn in the West every man and woman, tourist by steam car or traveler by auto, will obtain greater satisfaction and a more comprehensive idea of what the Pacific Coast implies by mapping beforehand a route that will include as many points of interest as the time at his disposal allows.

From Seattle to San Diego a sufficient variety of scene and climate is revealed to occupy the waking hours of the longest life and to afford food for reflection for the liveliest imagination. The whole of this American Pacific empire cannot be covered in a single season. But by a combination of rail, auto-stage and motor enough territory can be visited in one trip to open the eyes of all who so far have only known it by hearsay.

To see the great West, as far as possible, in one trip is an ambition whose realization will pay more in pleasure and profit and revelation than an extended visit to one single attractive center. Thus those who enter by the San Diego or Los Angeles portal should arrange their itinerary so as to depart by the Portland or Seattle gateway. On the other hand, those who come in via Vancouver or a northern way station should include Portland, San Francisco, Monterey and other selected cities and beauty spots scattered throughout the Pacific Coast commonwealth before the inevitable wind-up in Southern California.

"—But I'm on My Way!"

The Times hopes that the crowds of visitors who will trek westward this winter will see more of the whole Pacific Coast than formerly and so get a greater variety of impressions and have more to tell their friends in far-away cities of what the whole West—and not one section alone—has to offer in charm, individuality and perspective, both for the temporary sojourner and for the permanent resident.

In the present campaign to attract winter travel to the Pacific Coast, Los Angeles and San Francisco, the north and the south, in fact all the States on our western seaboard are acting as a unit, all for one and one for all. Every section has something to offer and the West as a whole stands behind each individual community.

SWEET SIXTEEN

Dorothy Dix writes an article in the New York Evening Post which should be read in every American home. She brushes aside criticisms of the Sappers and Japs girls as irrelevant and useless. But she administers advice to parents worth its weight in gold.

Wake up, fathers and mothers, from the trance in which you have doped yourselves into believing that your daughter is different from all other girls of her generation and that you can prevent her from doing all the things that the other girls do.

But the point is that 14 now is more sophisticated than 60. . . . Are you going to force your daughter to lie and deceive you? . . . Remember this, parents: Your girls are going to have beaux; they are going to have their dates; they are going to dance; they are going to places of amusement. You can't help that. They will go openly if they can—secretly if they are forced to it.

It was ever thus. Genesis tells us that Eve flirted with the serpent and then convinced Adam. The Masal folklore in Africa speaks of clandestine meetings of their first princess with a hostile warrior whom her brother later killed. The princess got wise and the gates were thrown open to all lovers and wooers. That race is extinct. The Kafirids planted in the hearts of their girls a sense of loyalty through confidence in their good behavior; a sixth sense which worked so well that only virtuous girls become brides. Tradition says so; and prolific birth rates prove it.

That problem is as old as humanity and Moses was the law of fear; the Law of will last as the human race. The law of Christ the law of love. Fathers in business make chums and confidants of their sons. They show them their errors and praise them for a good stroke of business. Sons so trained will carry on the old firms for generations. Fathers who have no business sense cannot teach their sons because no one can give what he does not possess.

If parents would consider the moral education of their children as much as their business career they would go a great deal farther in the direction of comfort at home when girls reach the age "where brook and river meet." False modesty is false tactics. Morals and ethics are two different things. Morals are of greater value than ethics or etiquette. Yet parents will teach their children that it is very unbecoming to leave their teaspoons in their coffee cups and avoid to mention essential breaches of morality until the girls find the rocks for themselves; often too late.

Mutual confidence of parent and child, substituted for fear and mistaken authority, goes far to make youth amenable. Few girls go wrong whose mothers are their real, if not their best, chums. The French express it well, "the friends of my friends

RE MR. KRIM

The chances seemed dim
For our friend Mr. Krim,
When France of a sudden
Went gunning for him.
"He hasn't a chance
With a country like France,
Although he is nifty and gritty,"
We said as we read
How the French went ahead
With field guns and airplanes
And showers of lead—
And day after day
In their masterful way,
Pursued him from city to city.

Yet still on a cliff
Overlooking the Riff,
Inhaling tobacco
With whiff after whiff,
The said Mr. Krim
Sits sardonically and grim
With seemingly nothing to fret him;
And night after night,
Just aloof from the fight,
He watches it rage
With a grin of delight
Which seems to imply
That their plans went awry,
When the French said they shortly would get him.

We are holding no brief
For this Bedouin chief,
Perhaps he is wrong
And perhaps he is right;
But this we will say
In no uncertain way—
The blighter does know
How to put up a fight!

are my friends." Mothers who can say the same thing about their daughters' friends will make few mistakes. Lies and deceptions between friends and chums are rare; friendship and chumminess between mother and daughter will make them fewer still.

THE WORLD CHANGES
The ricksha men in Tokio and other Japanese and Chinese cities have fallen in to hard paths. They used to have almost a monopoly in the matter of human transportation and their quaint two-wheeled vehicles were the joy of the stranger. But silvers, taxis and street cars have been introduced in the Orient and the itch for more speed has developed. The ricksha with its human power was picturesque, but it was also slow and uncomfortable. Now the tourist takes to motor transportation as first choice and accepts man power only when no other may be had. The ricksha men used to make their 3000 yen a month in other days. Now they are lucky if they make 200 in the same time. The passion for speed and efficiency girdles the earth. It is hard on anything that is merely unique.

NO SUMMER NEXT YEAR

Next year, according to Herbert Janvrien Brown of Washington, we shall have no summer. Something or other in connection with the specific gravity of the moon and the location of sun spots will bring this condition about, he says, and he backs his prediction with the predictions of scientists from various nations of the earth, including Norway. Well, if he is right, he had better run for office, as he will surely be elected. Summer, at least a New York summer, is one season we can hardly do without. Think how charming it will be to sleep at night without mosquitoes playing their sweet obbligato. Think of wearing overcoats in July instead of perspiring in koolkloths, so-called. Think of not having to buy a straw hat. Think of not having to envy the emigres of Maine. Think—but why think? Next July we shall be fettered to an office stool, as usual, the sweat dripping off the end of our nose, reading about how the heat wave will break in forty-eight hours. Mr. Brown may be right, but he will have to show us first.—[New York World.]

"Education and Prohibition"

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 8.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Assuming that the quotation, attributed to Abraham Lincoln by Rev. F. M. Larkin in The Times of October 7, related to the liquor question instead of slavery, which we know it did not, nevertheless there are the following very clear distinctions, if it be applied to the present prohibition laws of this country:

First, the present Volstead Act is so drastic and unreasonable, as, for instance, in that it seeks to prohibit wine, which was made by Jesus Christ (John, II, 1-10) and he drank it (Luke, VII, 33 and 34) that it can never "in God's own time" be "organized into law," which can be enforced.

Second, it did not "first find lodgment with the most enlightened souls," unless you assume that an organized minority in this country (the Anti-Saloon League) has a monopoly on enlightenment. As a matter of fact, the Eighteenth Amendment was only submitted to a vote in one State, namely, Ohio, where a large majority vote was cast against it, and the Volstead Act was never submitted to popular vote in a single State.

Visalia's War Trophy

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 30.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Those American Legion boys at Visalia may be right, but they may be all wrong in criticizing the canon given as a trophy to the Legionnaires of Tulare county.

Some guns were painted up like flappers; some were not—just a single dull color; some guns were made in Napoleon's time—such as the first trench mortars, which came from the Invalides, Paris. In 1916 there was a French battery of 155's that was in action opposite Freecourt on the Somme; the guns recoiled on big wooden wedges; and in 1917, at La Vague, Cambria front, there was a German battery of "Five-nines" (5.9) of much the same type and date, say, about 1890.

At Freecourt in 1916 there was a German trench mortar, built of heavy wooden staves, like a barrel and wound with wire; it threw five gallon oil-drums of H.E.

Hoping that such prominence may continue.

MUDDLING THROUGH

The British statesman look around, and trouble's all they see; the signs of lasting grief abound, and they sit drinking tea: a crisis looms up every day to horrify the view, and still the British statesman say, "Somehow we'll muddle through." A hundred times our merry tale has been in grievous case, confronting ruin, tricks and guile and plots and treasons base; a hundred times our foes have said, "Old Britain's days are few," and picked out dirges for the dead, but still we muddled through. This large philosophy is mine and governs my affairs; I don't surrender and repine when woes come un-avowed. Sometimes the problems I confront seem billed to queer my game. It seems a useless thing to hunt solutions for the same; along my path I straightly wend and let the problems stew, and I have noticed in the end I always muddle through. It argues an abiding trust in righteousness, this plan; the delegate whose cause is just, who loves his fellow-man, repines in a cheerful calm when things have gone askew, and in this thought he walks the floor and fret—somehow we'll muddle through.

AN UNDESIRABLE ALIEN
A gentleman named Liebeschutz was a German citizen of the German Empire, was convicted of arson in Poland, Cal., has been ordered deported to his native country as an undesirable alien. Of the legal point in the case the layman is naturally unable to judge; but one aspect of the case is puzzling. In order to get out a deportation warrant against him a hearing of some sort must have been held; and in order to have a hearing, shipshape and according to law the name of the defendant must be called by a bailiff clearly and in a loud tone of voice. Who was the mighty bailiff who called that name? He should be awarded a twenty-year endowment policy for $1000, issued by a reputable German Lebensversicherungsgesellschaft. —[New York World.]

Angel Vet Yields Only Five

Homers Poked by McDowell,

BY ROBERT RAY

Doc Crandall, pitching in invincible style, led the Vernon Tigers down with five hits yesterday at Wrigley Field.

Wrigley Field and the Angels captured the opener of the final series of the season by a 3-to-1 score. Jimmy McDowell's home-run clout over the screen in deep center field in the second inning accounted for the loss run scored off Crandall, who turned in his nineteenth victory of the year.

The Herman Pillette opposed Doc and the pair put on a real hurling duel. Pillette allowed but six hits, but two were home runs, one by Wally Hood and the other by Ray Jacobs. Both Seraph circuit clouts cleared the left-field brick barrier.

It was a real ball game and would have had the fans to steam heat had it taken place earlier in the year, but yesterday the small crowd didn't seem to get excited. Maybe it was too cold for even a hot hurling duel to warm them up.

About the only excited personage in Wrigley Field was red-haired youth who sat right near the pitcher.

misfortunes of war, however—Clyde Barnhart of the Pirates himself missing a homer by almost as close a margin after Moore's big blow in the fifth—and the Senators tonight are shaping their plans around the tall figure of the big Kansas farmer, Walter Johnson, for the final stand in defense of their championship.

Walter Johnson, hero of two victories so far, will go back to the box tomorrow with only two days of rest and still a bit handicapped by a "Charley horse" in his right leg. Washington hopes, as they were in the final analysis last year and as they have been all through this year's struggle, will be pinned on Old Barney, the lion-hearted and iron-armed veteran of 19 years of campaigning, as he seeks laurels that not only would give the Pirates a Washington once more, but put Johnson himself in a niche heretofore occupied only by Christy Mathewson, Jack Coombs, Babe Adams, now in the Pittsburgh background, and Stanley Coveleskie, whose failure to come through again for the Senators has been a bitter blow to the Washington clan.

With Johnson to rely upon and a southpaw ace still in the hole—Dutch Ruether—Washington has a powerful hand for the final showdown, whereas the Pirates, in the flush of victory, must solve a precarious pitching situation.

Lee Meadows, bespectacled veteran, whose shoulder, gone bad since the first game, underwent a slight operation last night, is out of the series altogether so that Manager McKechnie must choose tomorrow between the curves of "Jug" Hamielec, Johnny Morrison, thus far acting only in a relief role, and "Red" Oldham, a portly, untalented in world-series fire. Today, however, there were no pitching worries for McKechnie after Kremer, product of the Pacific Coast League, had gotten the first few kinks out of his arm. The cool young right-hander was found for a home run by Goheen in the first inning—the Goheen third out-blow of this series and his sixth in two years—while Peckinpah's double on the hit-and-run play scored Blunge in the second.

Record Broken
LOS ANGELES (Exclusive Dispatch)
PITTSBURGH, Oct. 13.—Eddie Moore's home run in the fifth inning of today's world series game here not only gave the Pirates the lead in that inning, but it also broke all records for the number of circuit clouts by two clubs in baseball's annual classic, bringing the total for 1925 to eleven. The previous mark was ten, made in 1923, by the Giants and Yankees.

ANDY'S BEAR STILL BITES
California Eleven Trains Behind Locked Gates for St. Mary's Game on Saturday

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
BERKELEY, Oct. 13.—The Golden Bear may be down, but he is not out. That is the gist of Andy Smith's remarks concerning Saturday's defeat at the hands of the Olympic Club, the first licking the Bear has taken since 1919.

Hilgard Field, the scene of the Bear's training activities, is closed to everyone, reporters included, from now until the time California meets St. Mary's this Saturday.

What is going on behind the canvas screened fences remains a mystery, but it is safe to say that the Blue and Gold gridders are going through the stickest week of training they have ever known.

MORALE UNBROKEN
While it has been rumored that a big shake-up may be expected on the California team in the St. Mary's game, Andy refuses to affirm or deny the statement. It is rather difficult to see just what a shake-up would accomplish, as Smith used a good portion of his men Saturday, and it can be said that the regulars were surpassed by the reserves. The team that started the game was just as good as the team that finished.

Regardless of the possibility of a shake-up, it is certain that California's morale was not broken by Saturday's defeat. Of course, the team and students alike were downcast when a record of five consecutive years without defeat was broken, especially when it was believed that a sixth year was in sight and another wonder team in the making, but the never-say-die spirit displayed by the California team and rooters alike up to the final gun has served to inspire the Bruins to fight harder than ever to win the remaining games.

CHICAGO CUBS WIN SERIES
(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
CHICAGO, Oct. 13.—Bill Wrigley's Chicago Cubs, who finished the season in the cellar of the National League, today whipped the White Sox 7 to 4 and capped the city series title. Wilbur Cooper pitched sterling ball for the Cubs, allowing only nine hits, while his mates were gathering fifteen hits off the Sox. Eddie Collins used three pitchers in a vain attempt to turn the tide, but his men played raggedly, making five errors. The White Sox won only one game out of the six played, the first game being nineteen innings to a tie. The score:

WARNER DRILLING CARDINAL PLAYERS IN TROJAN PLAYS
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)

STANFORD UNIVERSITY (Cal.) Oct. 13.—Coach Glenn Warner has drilled one of his reserve Cardinal players in U.S.C. plays and defense formations, and is sending the first team against this squad in scrimmage. There has been no change made in the regular line-up and it is evident that Warner intends to start the same team against U.S.C., that opened against Occidental. The squad will go through practice tomorrow and on Thursday will leave for Los Angeles.

OLD BARNEY DETERMINED
Walter Johnson Going Back Into Game Today Despite Injury and Hopes to Save Day for Washington

BY WALTER JOHNSON
Washington Pitching Ace (EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
PITTSBURGH, Oct. 13.—I am going back tomorrow after my third victory in this series. Mike Martin promises to bandage my strained right leg and I feel sure of going through to the end. I may not have all my speed, having rested only two days, but I may have enough, all things considered. If I am lucky not to hurt my leg again I should give the Pirates some opposition.

Ray Kremer deserves a world-cup upon Aldridge, who has rested today, or bring in some second-string pitcher. I still feel that we have an edge over them and hope to go back to Washington tomorrow night winner of my third straight victory in this series. I know Harris and the other boys will do their best to give me that happiness.

ROCKNE PREDICTS ARMY WILL BEAT IRISH; IS HE KIDDING?
SOUTH BEND (Ind.) Oct. 13.—If Knute Rockne isn't kidding the public, Notre Dame will be beaten by the Army in their annual fight in New York City Saturday afternoon.

Rockne told University Club members at luncheon today, that he was confident his team would be defeated, adding that he doubted if his hearers would believe it.

"My squad lacks the experience necessary to combat successfully a foe of the caliber of West Point," Rockne stated. "We have lots to learn. The Army, my scouts report, is represented this year by the best team it has had since the war. The cadets have experience that my team hasn't and my boys must learn. After the Army game, I believe Notre Dame will have found itself. The squad has a lot of promise."

YES, WILLS WILL FIGHT IN 1925--BOXES FLOYD JOHNSON

(By A. P. Night Wire)
NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—Articles for a twelve-round no-decision fight on Monday, October 28, at the Newark Armory, Newark, N. J., between Harry Wills, negro heavyweight champion challenger and Floyd Johnson of Iowa were signed this afternoon, according to an announcement by Wills' manager, Paddy Mullins.

Babe Culnan of the National Sportsman's Club of Newark, N. J., which will promote the contest, confirmed the announcement. He said the bout would mark the final appearance of Wills in the ring prior to his anticipated championship match with Jack Dempsey next summer.

Wills' 36 net, and another beautiful trophy, in the association tournament at Jack Tarrant's El Caballero Club yesterday.

Charles Bayless and Art Wake shot their way into the semifinals of the R. T. Burgess trophy event and A. L. Davidson collected a stinging 84 for the Milestone trophy, while Frank Bristol was able to top the event that was tied in the last Optimist tournament with a 58 net. Through his sterling play yesterday, Honey became eligible to compete for the Rex B. Goodell Service Club trophy. J. V. Westervelt won the Class B prize net with an 89 and Ralph Ford reduced his card to an 89 for the Class C net trophy.

PIRATE PILOT IS CONFIDENT

McKeechie Sure Buys Will Capture Title
Oldham or Morrison Slated to Hurl Today
Ray Kremer Landed by Boss of Pittsburghs

BY BILL McKEECHIE
Manager of Pittsburgh Pirates
(Copyright, 1925, Chester White Syndicate)
PITTSBURGH (Pa.) Oct. 13.—
By Wednesday night the Pirates will be having their evening meal as the new baseball champions of the world. My boys are not for a grand finish in which to bring home the bacon.

I understand that Johnson is coming back at us in the final game. I must give him a lot of credit for the two victories he scored over us but now that my boys are hitting in the pinches and generally acting normal I don't believe Johnson will finish his game.

I am going to start either Red Oldham or Johnny Morrison. Oldham is a smart southpaw with the kind of stuff that ought to stop the good hitters on the Washington club. I also have Morrison ready. He has shown the Senators a good curve ball in Washington and I know he is ready to go.

You couldn't hold my boys in the clubhouse after we had evened up the series. I never saw a club so set on ultimate victory. If the Senators manage to beat us out in the last battle then they are going to have a mighty good ball club which has put up a great fight against heavy odds.

Ray Kremer, our California "twit" pitched a long-up game after getting off to a little bit of a bad start. Goshin clicked one off him. The Senators got their two runs before the third inning. Starting with the third Kremer held them at bay and seldom was in real difficulty. In the ninth Joe Mauer, pinch runner for the Pirates, pitched a good ball which everything going his way. Bludge ended it by slapping one to Traynor.

Ferguson pitched a good game but he was up against the Pirates when they were looking like themselves.

OBSERVATIONS

BY THE UNBROKEN BYSTANDER.
BILL HENRY

THREE young men on the University of Southern California football team are going to take an awful beating next Saturday if the game between Stanford and Occidental last week was any criterion. They are Messrs. Cravath, Taylor and Gortell, who occupy the heart of the Trojan line. Ernie Nevers and Fred Solomon are going to pound away at that part of the defense for the greater part of the afternoon and anybody who undertakes to stop Nevers is in for a rough party. Pop Warner may fool the boys, though, by shift in his plunging attack to the tackle position, where the Trojans are supposedly not so well fortified as in the center of the line.

The U.S.C. ends will also come in for a good beating. The loud cheers that have rent the air every time the Trojan ends were mentioned have been largely due to the fact that several of them are expert smatchers of forward passes. They will be called upon next Saturday to smatch large portly gentlemen in red shirts who will shoot end runs and sweep the line with some speed and considerable force, and therein lies the test of a good end. Occidental's great wisdom stopped every play but one, and it will be worth watching to see how the Trojan experts come out against the same attack.

The crowd of 10,000 fans who witnessed the Occidental-Pomona game last year at Peterson Field will undoubtedly be surprised a week from next Saturday, when the California Grizzlies tackle the Oxy Tigers in a game which, at the present time, is all the earmarks of the battle that will undoubtedly decide the conference championship. The Tigers have showed considerably more offensive power than any of the conference teams this year, while their defensive work is not to be sneezed at. The Grizzlies have shown improvement that borders on the sensational, and a record crowd is assured.

There has never been an occasion in which the conference has been so complicated. Occidental's only defeat has been at the hands of Stanford, and the Grizzlies are still undefeated. Whittier, which was expected to be a strong contender, was massacred by U.S.C. and thoroughly trimmed by St. Mary's. Caltech looked pretty good against Occidental, but was beaten over by San Diego Junior College, which had previously beaten Occidental and lost to the Grizzlies. Pomona, which was thought to be stronger than she appeared against U.S.C., is proved to be a good deal of a flop against the Grizzlies. It looks like a wild year in the conference.

DOC CRANDALL TAMES TIGERS

the press box, and divided his time between hollering "Go get 'em, Doc!" and asking the scorers how many hits Crandall had allowed. Vernon got his scoring over early in the pastime. Jimmy McDowell scored the long home run in the second inning. After that the Tigers settled back into their shells, or whatever it is Tigers settle back into, and wondered why they couldn't get any more runs off Crandall.

The Scraps knotted the count in the home half of the same inning when Wally Hood rode one of Pillette's offerings out in Thirtieth street, where men are men and supposed to belong to the South Park district Boosters' Club.

Everything remained as tied as the world series until the last half of the fifth, which Clyde Beck opened by punching a single to center. Gardena's best second-basemen scored when Bill Whaley ranned a single past Bob Gillespie in left field. The Tigers erased Whaley from the paths when Sandberg hit to Pillette, who threw to Hemingway, trapping Bill between second and third.

SAGEHENS MIX WITH CALTECH

Harold Merritt Recovers from Injury Received in U.S.C. Game

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
POMONA COLLEGE, Oct. 13.—With Harold Merritt, Pomona's flashiest backfield player, again in shape, Sagehen supporters are expecting the Blue and White forces to put up a close fight when they clash with Caltech at Tournament Park, Saturday. Due to an injured foot received in the U.S.C. game, Merritt was kept on the sidelines for nearly the entire sixty minutes of the Grizzly contest last week. When Coach Nixon finally sent his regular quarterback on the field the Sagehens opened up a brilliant passing attack and registered three consecutive first downs.

Merritt is also an excellent punter and should be able to boot out of danger against Stanton's Engineers whenever the occasion demands. Poor kicking was one of Pomona's faults in the Grizzly game, and Coach Nixon has no idea of this happening again.

However, with a stronger backfield to throw against the Beavers, the Sagehen line will be weaker, due to the absence of Haven Leavitt, left tackle. Leavitt has been hobbling around on crutches this week and local doctors are fearing that a small ankle bone may be broken. He is one of Coach Heath's best linemen and his absence will be keenly felt. Packard is now being groomed for the position and will likely start against the Engineers.

Oxy Freshmen Play Christian College Team

The Occidental freshman football team is scheduled to meet the California Christian College on Peterson Field Thursday afternoon. After a lay-off of two weeks Coach Oak Smith of the frosh squad should give the college eleven a stiff battle.

The new conference ruling which declares all men ineligible for all games is they are ineligible for the conference games has hit the Occidental frosh a terrific blow. By this ruling Stout, Eberhardt and Cuthbert will be unable to play at all for the remainder of the season. Stout was playing guard, Eberhardt half and Cuthbert tackle.

The Christian College team has been improving constantly since their game with the University of California, Southern Branch, and should give the Tiger yearlings a tough afternoon.

Coach Oak Smith has a formidable squad with Hunt, the Schweizer brothers and Ralls in the backfield. William Popelka, hailing from Orosi High School in the San Joaquin Valley, has caused much attention lately while playing against the varsity at guard position. The freshmen are a heavy bunch and should give the conference teams a big battle for the frosh title.

GAS RATES FOR NORTH REDUCED
Cut of 5 to 11 Cents Made by State Commission
Decrease Due to Lower Cost of Fuel Oil Used
Local Application for Higher Scale Pending

General reduction in domestic gas rates in the San Francisco Bay District and San Joaquin Valley was ordered yesterday by the State Railroad Commission. The reduction comes on the heels of an application for revision of rates, due to increased cost of manufacture and scarcity of natural gas.
Reductions amounting to from 5 to 11 cents a 1000 cubic feet in gas furnished domestic customers of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, San Joaquin Light and Power Company, Central Counties Gas Company, were ordered by the commission. Similar reductions in the price of gas furnished by the Coast Counties Gas and Electric Company, Coast Valley Gas and Electric Company, Modesto Gas Company and San Diego Consolidated Gas Company were ordered. Steam heating rates of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, and Great Western Power Company of California in the San Francisco Bay District were ordered lowered.
The lower rates cover virtually all of the State except the district served by Los Angeles companies, and are in accordance with the commission's rule to adjust rates automatically in accordance with cost of production. It was said. A reduction of 15 cents a barrel in the price of fuel oil is the chief reason for the adjustment, it was said.
A hearing on the application of Los Angeles companies for an adjustment of present rates is set for the 28th inst., in Los Angeles.

'HUBBY' AND MONEY LOST AT ONE TIME
But Film Actress Declares She Received Blackened Eye as Receipt

Alma Bennett, screen actress, lost $5 and her husband the 11th inst., but received in return a black eye and other reasons for seeking a divorce, she asserted yesterday in a suit filed against Fred Bennett, a real-estate man.
They were married January 3, last, the complaint says, and had their first difficulty eleven days later when they were visiting friends. He called her vile names and she called a policeman, who took Bennett away, she asserts, but he got out on bail and returned later to drag her out of bed and the house, thrust her bodily into an automobile and haul her home. She left him, she says, but took him back January 22, and all went well for three months, when another quarrel was followed by physical violence and this time she filed a divorce suit, withdrawn in May when he promised to be good. Adopt a plan in detail at this time to meet the future needs of a city of 3,000,000 people.
Kerr declared the Pacific Electric Company "has no rapid-transit plan matured," although the company has vague hopes of being able at some future date to bridge the business district by an elevated structure north and south and possibly to extend the new subway from Fourth and Hill streets east to Spring street, then south outside the limits within which traffic is extremely heavy. He declared the company has been losing money steadily for several years, due to the amazing increase in automobile travel and in the shipping of freight by truck.
"I have recommended to our people," he added, "that we assemble $1,000,000 and embark on the truck business on a large scale as one means of offsetting other losses."
OTHER SPEAKERS HEARD
Other speakers were Chief Engineer Marsh of the Public Utilities Commission, and A. F. Southwick. Marsh opposed development of the bus system, declaring this type of transit "too de luxe for the wage earner," and he also expressed the opinion that financial interests downtown would strenuously fight Damon's centralization plan. Southwick urged a plan modeled after the New York subway system, with four-track trunk lines devoted to both express and local service.

SUBWAY OPENS ON NOVEMBER 15

"The main question is how are we going to pay for the result of the plan? There are at least two laws that govern the boundaries of our bond issues. One is the general State law, the other the eastern situation or what we call the 'New York 7 per cent law.' At the present time more bonds are authorized to be sold as part of the city's indebtedness by an excess of between $20,000,000 and $40,000,000 over our capacity under the New York law.

CHARTER DEMANDS PLAN
"The Kelker, De Leuw report was developed solely to meet the provisions of the new city charter that the tunnel or elevated structure can be constructed by franchise until the city has adopted a traffic plan—but it is obvious that no City Council can adopt a plan in detail at this time to meet the future needs of a city of 3,000,000 people."
Kerr declared the Pacific Electric Company "has no rapid-transit plan matured," although the company has vague hopes of being able at some future date to bridge the business district by an elevated structure north and south and possibly to extend the new subway from Fourth and Hill streets east to Spring street, then south outside the limits within which traffic is extremely heavy. Mrs. Rodman recently returned from a trip around the world, on which she made a careful study of women in the professions and in commercial life generally. Her subject will be "Women as a Factor in the Scheme of Things."

SEEK CLEW IN BOMB BLAST

Revenge Motive Seen in Plot to Kill Officer as Car and Garage Wrecked by Explosion

Police detectives yesterday were investigating an attempt to take the life of Police Sergeant Charles Rudolph, assigned to the liquor squad at Lincoln Heights Division. When Sgt. Rudolph stepped on the starter of his automobile yesterday morning in his garage at 3827 Zamora street there was a terrific explosion which wrecked the front of his car and tore out the rear wall of his garage.

Investigating officers at first were of the opinion that a leak in the "gas" feed pipe caused the blast. Capt. Felt, bomb expert of the police department, did not agree, however, and stated that a small nitro-glycerine bomb had been planted under the hood and connected with the battery by two small wires.
The front of the machine was demolished by the concussion. The force of the blast blew a piece of the front hood through the garage roof to an adjoining yard, more than 100 feet away. Two heavy plate glass windows in the police officer's house also were shattered by the explosion, which was heard for several blocks.

Sgt. Rudolph said yesterday he did not know of any enemies he might have. He has been very active, however, in Capt. Plummer's campaign against bootleggers in Lincoln Heights Division, and detectives are investigating the possibility of a revenge plot against Rudolph.
In his report to Newton Division, Sgt. Rudolph stated that he placed his car in the garage Monday afternoon and did not go near it again until 9 o'clock yesterday morning.
The police officer was not injured in the blast. He owes his life, police say, to the fact that the blast forced the front end of the car toward the rear wall.

Ban on Firearms Removed to Give Hunters Chance
Los Angeles-county Nimrods and Dinosaurs may hang up their bows and arrows and oil up the trusty old shooting iron. The Board of Supervisors yesterday repealed the ordinance forbidding the use of firearms, adopted several weeks ago because of the fire hazard.

The first rain of the season, a week ago Sunday, was not considered sufficient evidence that the rainy season was really at hand, and the board declined to repeal the ordinance at that time. But Monday's downpour convinced the board that a Florida really means business.
The repeal gave huntersmen until Thursday evening to get caught up with their deer hunting for this year. The deer season closes the 15th inst.

BURGLARY CHARGES IN THEFT OF LIQUOR

Complaints charging burglary were issued against five men by Dist. Atty. Hammer yesterday, charging them with taking liquor valued at $8000 from the garage of W. A. Clark and Charles Finch.

SOCIETY

BY JUANA NEAL LEVY

Now that the opera season is over society is busily making its plans for numerous delightful affairs, including dinners, teas, luncheons and matinee parties, the next great event being the Philharmonic Orchestra symphonies, which will commence next week, and preceding the first concert on Friday, the 23rd inst., a number of luncheon parties are being arranged.

One of the pleasing features of this season's concern is that they will begin at 2:30 p.m. instead of 3 o'clock, which made the getting out at the busiest hour of the day, when the street cars are unbearably crowded and the traffic is at its worst.

Last evening one of the delightful affairs of the week was the dinner party with which Mrs. James Calhoun Drake entertained at her home on South Hoover street, complimenting her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Wilcox, who returned recently from an extended trip abroad.

The table was beautifully decorated with great, shaggy, copper-hued chrysanthemums and foliage and covers were arranged for sixteen guests.

After dinner bridge and mah jong featured the evening's entertainment.

Mrs. Drake is rejoicing the homecoming of her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Sayre Macneil, and their three kiddies, who have been abroad for some time and who are expected to arrive here December 20, next, in time for the Christmas holidays, and they will be house guests of Mrs. Drake for the Yuletide season.

Mrs. Hugh Livingston Macneil, who is now in Paris, is sailing for home on the 25th inst. aboard the Paris and, after a brief stay in New York City, will come direct to the Coast.

Mrs. Mary Wilcox Longstreet, who is journeying on the other side indefinitely, joins Mrs. Macneil in Paris today or tomorrow and will remain with her until her sailing for home when, more than likely, Mrs. Longstreet will return to Italy, where her sister and

BISCHOFF RETURNS TO INCREASE OUTPUT
Good news that portends a busy winter for short-reel comedies and features was brought to Hollywood yesterday by Samuel Bischoff, president of the California Studios and Bischoff, Inc., and producer of the H. C. Witwer "Classics in Slap," upon his arrival from a two months' trip visiting exchanges and exhibitors in twenty-one key cities and New York.

Bischoff stated upon his arrival that the exhibitors and the exchanges are clamoring for punchy short-reel comedies and features and that the public is taking to these so rapidly that the exhibitor is now advertising them in the newspaper and in posters as extensively as they are many of their big features.

Bischoff has contracted to produce thirty-six comedies this season, twelve of the Witwer "Classics in Slap," twelve of the Biff Thrill series and twelve of the Gold Medal Brand. Half of these are completed and he will begin production on the others immediately. Because of the rapidly increasing demand for short-reel subjects, Bischoff will increase his output.

Commercial travelers in Mexico are now being given a 25 per cent stiffly beaten white of egg and discount in railroad tracks.

Greatest Air Meet in History Came to a Close Yesterday at Mitchel Field, Long Island, with the staging of the air transport trophy race, the final event on the 1925 national air races program. The meet produced a number of new records and was highly successful as an exposition of the progress of aerial development. Photo at left shows the start of the opening day feature race won by Capt. H. Lemaitre, the French pilot. Directly beneath is photo of Capt. Lemaitre (left) and his com-patriot, Capt. Pelletier D'Oisy, who finished fourth. The presence of President Coolidge's special air investigating committee (pictured above as they were about to leave Washington by air for the races) gave an added interest. (P. & A. photos.)

ECZEMA ON FACE AND LIMBS

Itched and Burned So Could Not Sleep. Healed by Cuticura.

"My trouble started with an itching and burning and then eczema broke out in a rash on my face and limbs. My face was rough and scaly, and the breaking out itched and burned so that I could not sleep at night. The trouble lasted about three months.

"I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment and after using two cakes of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment I was completely healed." (Signed) James Frankfurter, Healthwin Hospital, So. Beach, Ind., Jan. 16, 1925.

Cuticura Soap to cleanse and purify. Cuticura Ointment to soothe and heal. Cuticura Talcum to powder and sweeten are ideal for daily toilet purposes.

ALL WOMEN WHO WORK

Whether in the home, store, shop, mill or office, they alone know how often they are really unfit for work. It may be a headache, backache, pain in the side, nervous depression, cramps or those dreadful dragging-down pains, all of which symptoms have their origin in some feminine ailment that is making life a burden. In almost every such case these ailments will yield to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. For a great many years this simple root and herb remedy has been restoring women to health and strength and it will pay every suffering woman to try it.—(Advertisement.)

NEEDS OF STATE TO BE SURVEYED

Development Body Meetings Will Begin Today

Henry Robinson to Preside at Research Section

Picture of Economic Status for Opening Session

Beginning today and continuing through Saturday, the California Development Association will conduct a series of meetings covering every phase of the organization's work throughout the State. Reports, synopses and conclusions regarding California's needs will feature the general analysis program, which will be opened this morning with a session of the Executive Research Committee under Henry M. Robinson, chairman.

Tomorrow the directors of the association will meet at 10 a.m.; on Friday the agricultural, research, publicity, conservation, coordination and industrial committees of the Southern California Regional Advisory Council of the association will discuss the problems of their various departments, while the Southern California Regional Advisory Council meeting will be held in Pasadena Saturday morning.

A complete picture of California's present economic status will be obtained at the opening of the directors' meeting tomorrow. Each regional vice-president of the association; namely, C. C. Teague of Santa Paula; Claus Spreckels of San Diego; Clinton E. Miller of Los Angeles; Fred W. Kiesel of Sacramento and Dudley V. Seltzer of Redding, has prepared a synopsis of the conditions existing in his district of the State.

Inasmuch as the work of the association is based primarily upon fact-finding and research activities, the Executive Research Committee, meeting today, is accorded a position of prime importance to the State's interest.

Members of the Executive Research Committee who will attend the meeting are A. Emory Wishon, manager of the San Joaquin Light and Power Corporation; Dr. Alonso Taylor, director of the Food Research Institute, Stanford University; Prof. David Weeks, Division of Agricultural Economics, University of California; Allan Sprunt, assistant Federal Reserve agent, Federal Reserve Bank at San Francisco; and George Eberle of the Eberle and Rieseman Economic Services, Los Angeles.

Executives of the California Development Association who will take part in the conference are R. B. Hale, president; Norman H. Hale, general manager; R. N. Wilson, W. L. Connolly and H. F. Ormsby.

NAVY CHIEF WILL REACH CITY TODAY

Admiral Robison Due from East With New Commander of Battle Fleet

The two ranking officers of the United States Navy, Admiral Samuel R. Robison, commander-in-chief of the United States Fleet, and his brother-in-law, Admiral Charles F. Hughes, who tomorrow at this port, assume command of the United States Battle Fleet, will arrive in the city this afternoon via the Southern Pacific. Both officers come direct from Washington, where they testified before the Morrow aircraft inquiry.

Admiral Robison will proceed immediately to San Diego, where he will board his flagship, the U.S.S. Seattle, and on the morning of the 16th inst., will depart for New York via the Panama Canal. At Panama he will be in conference with Canal Army and Navy heads over the plans for the joint Army and Navy maneuvers in which the combined fleets will participate this winter.

Admiral Hughes, who succeeds Admiral Robison as commander-in-chief of the battle fleet, comes to his new sea duty from the Navy Department, where he was assistant chief of Naval Operations. He will hoist his flag tomorrow morning aboard the U.S.S. Pennsylvania, which will be fleet flagship until the return of the U.S.S. California from Puget Sound on December 2, next.

LOS ANGELES PRAISED FOR FINE SHOPS

New May Company Manager Calls Atmosphere Second to That of New York

"Los Angeles atmosphere and shops are more metropolitan than those in any city I know of outside of New York," is the compliment paid to the city by J. J. Buell, for twenty years a New York and Chicago department store executive.

Mr. Buell arrived here Monday, and yesterday became general manager of store operations for the May Company. The position is a new one created by the company for the further efficiency of the big department store.

For the last five years Mr. Buell has been vice-president of McCree Brothers, department store operators in New York City. For fourteen years previously he was general supervisor of the Fair Store, Chicago.

He will make his home in Los Angeles permanently and began his first day in the May Company with conferences with executives and study of the situation.

CHARITY WORKER SUCCEUMS IN EAST

Mrs. Walter Werner, who spent the last three winters in Los Angeles and was known for her charities in connection with the Assistance League of Southern California and other organizations, died in New York City, her home, Monday. She was a sister to W. R. Morgan, 333 North Western avenue; Mrs. G. C. McCarthy, 1340 North Mariposa street; and Anselie Morgan, also of Los Angeles, and to George Morgan and Mrs. Ray Wilson, both of Van Nuys.

RANDALL REOPENS FIGHT

Councilman Seeks Reallocation of $138,000 Fund Voted for San Fernando Valley Street Work

Having lost his battle to prevent the contribution by the city of $70,000 toward the extension of South Sherman Way through the Hollywood hills, from the Ventura State highway to Beverly Hills, Councilman Randall yesterday renewed his effort to obtain a reallocation of the $138,000 pledged by the former City Council toward the improvement of Devonshire and Canoga streets in the San Fernando Valley.

This is the district which Councilman Randall represents in the Council.

Councilman Randall, in his resolution, proposed that the $138,000 be allocated as follows:

1. Chatsworth - Canoga - Devonshire, paving and resurfacing, $30,000.

2. Resurfacing of San Fernando Road, from southern limits of city of San Fernando to city of Burbank, at a minimum width of thirty-six feet, including widening and strengthening of existing bridges, $70,000.

Proceedings to be started at once for the permanent paving of San Fernando Road, with ten-foot concrete for a width of twenty-four feet, to be paid for entirely by assessments.

3. Paving with six-inch concrete for a width of twenty feet of Tomah, Clybourne, Hansen and Wicks streets, $30,000.

4. Paving with six-inch concrete for a width of twenty feet of Mulholland street and Clybourne avenue from Los Feliz Boulevard to Dayton-avenue Bridge, $30,000. Total contributed by city, $138,000, remainder to be paid by assessments.

The Councilman's resolution was referred jointly to the Public Works, Street Opening and Widening and Finance Committees.

SERVICE CHANGE GRANTED

As a result of negotiations launched some time ago by H. R. Brashers, traffic manager for the Chamber of Commerce, the American Railway Express Company announced yesterday a less-than-carload refrigerator service will leave Los Angeles each Friday for Chicago, beginning this week.
